Taft Piles Up Huge Lead In West Va.

Leads in All But One Delegate Contest; May Score Sweep

By The Associated Press

Returns trickling in from West Virginia's heavy primary voting today gave Sen. Robert Taft a 15-to-1 edge in the convention delegate race and a 3-to-1 margin in the popularity poll.

A late rush of voters Tuesday swamped many balloting points in the 2,822 precincts. Some closed shop at deadline, leaving latecomers queued up outside, while others kept open as long as anyone wanted to vote.

Taft candidates for presidential-nominating delegate seats were ahead in all but one of the 16 contests. A supporter of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower was leading in that one. Taft people expect a clean sweep but say losing one delegate to Eisenhower could hardly be called a victory for the general.

Results in 1,043 precincts showed 49,474 votes for the Ohio senator against 14,312 for former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota. Eisenhower was not entered in this preferential voting and write-ins were not counted.

No Contests

Democrats held on presidential popularity contest, without a fight, named a 20-vote delegation to the nominating convention.

Both GOP and Democratic delegations are officially unpledged.

In Washington, Sen. John Marshall Butler of Maryland took issue with Eisenhower's statement this week that, if the American people want him for president, "they know where to find me." The general made the remark in repeating his intention not to campaign.

Butler said no man should be begged to be president, adding: "I am not ready to admit that we are that hard up for presidential material."

Taft and W. Averell Harriman, who seeks the Democratic nomination as president, criticized the campaign on behalf of Eisenhower, while Sen. Frank Carlson of Kansas praised the general.

Taft spoke to a group of women campaign workers in Washington. He told them that, if nominated, he would not make "the kind of a 'me-too' campaign conducted by Gov. Dewey in 1948 and which I have no doubt he will recommend to Gen. Eisenhower."

New York's Gov. Thomas Dewey, a strong Eisenhower man, has said he will urge the general to campaign vigorously if nominated. Dewey attributes his 1948 defeat by Truman to over-confidence and a too-easy going campaign.

Harriman told the National Press Club that the general as a Republican would be "surrounded by those men who have blocked progress in this country." He said Taft is among such men.

Carlson, an Eisenhower supporter, told a Mitchell, S.D., rally that Eisenhower often has spoken out against the Truman administration. He said the general was offered the Democratic nomination "on a platter" in 1951 but turned it down.

Say Convict Admits Part In Brink's Holdup

CRANSTON, R. I. (INS)— A break in the $1,200,000 Brink's robbery appeared possible today with a convict's reported admission that he was an accomplice in the 1950 Boston holdup.

Massachusetts Attorney General Francis E. Kelly declared "This may be it" and scheduled a meeting with Rhode Island officials to question Alfred Gagnon, a Cranston state prison inmate, today.

The 41-year-old Pawtucket, R. I., prisoner was arrested by the FBI last month in Chicago in connection with an attempted holdup of a Providence diamond Merchant in November, 1950.

Wage Board Set To Act In Oil Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) w - primed today to clamp a general but flexible ceiling on the amount of wage increases 90,000 striking oil workers might get under anti-inflation rules.

The strike entered its third week, with no signs of early settlement.

The WSB, in studying six scattered wage pacts already reached in the industry, obviously hoped that the amount it allows will act as a guide-post to more than 20 unions engaged in the strike against the nation's major oil companies. And company and union officials said they hoped the same thing.

The strike has brought on oil

Soften Policy On Controls In Senate

Committee Approves Watered-Down Wage, Price Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate banking committee has voted to strip the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) of its controversial dispute-settling powers and to reorganize it as an all-public body.

As now set up, the board consists of six members each representing organized labor, industry and the public.

At the same time the committee voted late Tuesday to continue wage and price controls until next March 1.

Today, two Democratic senators said the controls—extender is so watered down it would weaken the dikes against inflation.

Senators Douglas of Illinois and Moody of Michigan said the committee "did not adopt a single strengthening amendment favoring the consuming public."

In acting on President Truman's request that Congress extend all stabilizatoin controls through June 30, 1953, the committee voted 8-4 to:

1. Continue wage and price controls until next March 1.

2. Extend rent control and authority to allocate scarce civilian materials through June 30, 1953.

The current controls law expires June 30.

Result of Steel Fight

The 7 to 3 vote to reorganize the wage board was an outgrowth of bitter criticism of the board's handling of the steel dispute. Protests have been voiced in Congress over the amount of pay raises the WSB recommended for the CIO Steelworkers and for its endorsement of a union shop in the industry.

Under a union shop agreement, a non-union worker may be hired but he must join a union within a specified time.

The reorganization proposal, presented by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill), does not say how many members the board should have. Their appointment would be subject to Senate confirmation. Present board appointments are not.

The new board would report directly to the director of economic stabilization. Charles E. Wilson, who resigned as economic stabilizer in a row over administration handling of the steel dispute, had complained he was bypassed by the WSB, which sometimes went directly to the President.

Could Only Recommend

The new board could formulate and recommend to the economic stabilizer general policies and rules on wages.

The committee instructed its staff to draw up an amendment to specify that the Capehart Amendment to the controls law applies only to manufacturers and not to retailers.

The Capehart provision says price ceilings must allow for increased costs from the start of the Korean war to last July 26.

The proposed amendment to Capehart was requested by the Office of Price Stabilization. It said otherwise prices would have to be raised on a long list of foods as result of an emergency court of appeals ruling last week that Capehart applies to retailers as well as to manufacturers.

Burned Car Is Traced To Toledo

Tire Tracks Checked At Scene of Blast In Wyandot County

By EMORY ANDERSON

Investigation of the "dynamite murder" in Wyandot County widened today with the discovery that the burned-out mystery car, found near Nevada, was stolen March 7 in Toldeo.

Other evidence is being sifted and the shattered remains of the murder victim are being studied in an effort to turn up a clue to his identity.

Tire tracks found at the scene of the blast were being checked by experts from the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation to see if there is any connection between the car and the murder. The two front tires had not been burned although the rear tires had been destroyed.

Authorities are assuming the burned out car to have a definite connection with the murder and are working along that line.

While Sheriff Stansberry was investigating at the scene of the blast, State Highway Patrol Plainclothes experts moved in and checked the car. By finding secret numbers on the chassis they soon determined the car had been one reported stolen in Toledo March 7. It was a dark green 1949 Ford two-door sedan.

Pathologist Examines Remains

The pieces of the body have been sent to Dr. Emmerick von Haam, pathologist at Ohio State University, to determine what he could about the murder victim. His preliminary report stated the man was between the ages of 25 and 40 years of age and weighed about 200 pounds. He had light brown hair and was rather short and stocky. A report to be made today should turn up more as to ready official files are being what the victim was like. Al studied to determine where someone of that description might be missing.

Captain Ralph Murphy of the Toledo Homicide Department said the car would be treated simply as another stolen car, but the possible connection would be kept in mind. He said he knew of no one, matching the description of the murder victim, who was missing in Toledo.

Discovery of the murder was made by farmer Elmer Wyss of Wyandot County when he went to a woods not far from his home to dump rubbish Monday at 5 p.m. There he found a human foot.

He immediately called Sheriff Ben Stansberry who, with his deputies, found other parts of a human body scattered over a radius of 200 feet. Parts later collected were two legs, severed above the knees, two arms, severed at the elbows, and a head, flattened until it was only about three inches thick by the force of the blast.

Sound of Blast Recalled

The series of developments preceding discovery of the blasted remains started Thursday.

Farmer Wyss said he had heard a sharp blast at about 9:30 p.m. Thursday. A check with neighbors turned up no more evidence as to what had caused the blast.

The neighbor who lives to the north of the Wyss farm reported he saw a car go into the woods shortly before the blast but he saw no car come out. He said he was cultivating his field at the time.

Blasts are often heard by the residents of that secion of Wyandot County since a stone quarry is located in Hardin County a short distance away and they often hear blasts of dynamite. However, this blast was different and farmer Wyss was thinking about the one he heard when he dumped the rubbish Monday. He found the foot a short distance away.

At 12:30 a.m. Saturday, at Nevada about 20 miles from where the blast occurred, another happening was taking place which may be another link in the chain of evidence.

Sheriff Notified

A man driving along a lonely road just south of Nevada saw a car burning fiercely. He drove to a nearby farm house and notified the farmer living there, who drove to the nearest phone and called Sheriff Ben Stansberry. In the meantime, the Nevada fire de-

4 Convicts Hunted In Texas Break

Flee State Prison Farm; Kidnap Woman, Daughter

ANGLETON, Tex., (AP)—South Texas police pressed a frenzied search today for four tough prisoners who kidnaped a screaming young woman and her small daughter after escaping from Ramsey State Prison farm.

Mrs. Lydia Sproles, about 32, and her six-year-old daughter Clara Jo, were forced into the felons' stolen car on an Angleton street just before midnight.

The armed fugitives stole a pick-up truck at the prison farm, abandoned it and stole a passenger car in Angleton, then a few minutes before midnight abandoned that car and stole another in Velasco, Tex.

The young Angleton medical clinic technician and her small daughter were the second set of hostages taken by the desperadoes during the night.

As they made their break, they took assistant Warden O. O. Stewart, Alfred Minner, tractor supervisor for the farm and his wife and son. These four were released unharmed.

Identify Convicts

Prison officials identified the convicts as Robert Arthur Chick, Russell H. Pulliam, John E. Welch and George Theodorou. Chick was identified as an international airplane thief and a pilot. Airports were warned to look out for an attempt to steal a plane.

A woman taxi driver, Rose Vandorn, saw the convicts force Mrs. Sproles into their car.

"Get in and you won't be hurt," one of the men said to Mrs. Sproles.

Warden C. L. McAdams said three of the men threatened an assistant steward, Robert A. Pryor, with a knife about 8:45 p.m., took his clothing and locked him and a dozen inmates in a meat vault.

Take Guard's Clothes

Finding a guard, the men took his clothes, sent a messenger for assistant Warden O. O. Stewart, who was with a group of prisoners watching a movie. When Stewart appeared, they took his keys and unlocked Chi 's cell.

All four procured guard's clothing, took Stewart and went to Minner's home nearby. The first four hostages were herded into Minner's pickup.

Justices Ponder Truman Powers

U.S. Awaits Historic Steel Seizure Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The answer to the momentous question: did President Truman exceed his legal powers when he seized the steel industry? Began forming today behind the marble columns of the U. S. Supreme Court.

It may be a week, or several weeks, before the nine members of the court of last resort have resolved their own doubts and convictions in the quiet seclusion of their conference chambers.

The lawyers had their final say Tuesday for (1) upholding, and (2) reversing the decision of District Judge David A. Pine, who held the President's action was illegal and unconstitutional.

Justice Jackson spoke out from the bench against any hasty announcement. He said he will oppose making known the court's decision until the opinion explaining the reasons behind it has been written.

If a majority of the nine justices go along with Jackson's view, it may be a matter of weeks before the coutry knows whether the President had—or didn't have—authority to seize the steel mills to avert a strike of 650,000 CIO United Steelworkers for higher wages.

If, however, a majority should decide to announce the decision in advance of the writing of the formal opinion, the outcome of the controversy over the President's "inherent powers" might be diclosed almost anytime.

Full Court Decision

Presumably all of the justices will participate in the decision, since they all took part in voting to review Judge Pine's decision without waiting for the case to take its usual course through the U. S. Court of Appeals. And all nine of them sat through the two days of arguments.

Ordinarily a justice who feels he should not take part in a case for reasons of his own steps out before the arguments begin. While it is unusual, there is nothing to prevent a justice from sitting through the arguments before deciding he shoud not take part in the decision.

In his closing argument, John W. Davis, 79-year-old attorney for the steel industry, called the seizure "an extension of executive power lacking legislative authority without parallel in American history."

But Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, who spoke for the administration, derided as "a lot of fantastic hobgoblins" the industry's claim of irreparable injury from the seizure.

Perlman said the steel companies could collect from the government any damages they could prove in court.

Davis observed that the seized companies have not yet filed suits for damages, but he said he hoped Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, who took over the mills under presidential order, would be in a position to pay losses as high as 300 million dollars.

Quiz Perlman in Detail

Davis used only nine of the 63 minutes he had left to wind up his argument. Perlman, who had only 17 minutes left, was kept on his feet for almost an hour answering questions from the bench which did not stop when the red light flashed to signal that his alloted 2½ hours had passed.

When Perlman told the court "we are at war" and must have an uninterrupted supply of steel Justice Jackson cut in:

"Hasn't the President specifically disclaimed that? Hasn't he said it was a police action?

Perlman replied that it might

Steelworkers Threaten To Resume Strike

Resolution Before Convention Has "Settle or Else" Tone

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The CIO-United Steelworkers hinted broadly today there would be a new steel strike unless America's steel industry comes to terms—and very soon.

The threat of a walkout that would again idle some 650,000 workers in the steel mills was contained in a resolution up for consideration by the 2,500 delegates to the union's sixth (biennial) constitutional convention.

The resolution flatly declares "The crisis in the steel industry must be promptly resolved." There were no ifs, and or buts.

More bluntly it says:

"We cannot and will not continue indefinitely to work in 1952 for 1950 wages and working conditions.

"We cannot and will not continue indefinitely to work without satisfactory collective bargaining contracts."

Philip Murray, president of the 1,100,000-member union, in a 34-page special report titled "the

Mr. and Mrs. Gene White

Name Children's Home Superintendent, Matron

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. "Gene" White today took over their duties as superintendent and matron of the Marion County Children's Home.

Appointment of Mr. and Mrs. White as head of the Home was made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Child Welfare Board. They succeed Mr. and Mrs. Lorin O. Giblin who have been in charge since April of last year. Prior to taking over their new work Mr. and Mrs. White had been in charge of the Marion County Detention Home since June 1, last year.

The new superintendent and his wife are both 28 years of age and have two children, Carole Genette, six years old and John, two and one-half years old. Mr. White formerly was associated with the Marion public school system as a custodian and before that was a junior chemist with the McMillen Feed Co. He has been active in scouting and junior church work. Mrs. White took her nurse's training at Fairmont General Hospital School of Nursing at Fairmont, W. Va., and was employed at the Smith Clinic and in the office of a local physician. Both are graduates of the Masontown High School, Masontown, W, Va., with the class of 1942.

Mr. and Mrs. Giblin, who withdrew their application for the positions, have no definite plans at present. Mr. Giblin, who formerly was on the staff of the Pleasant Centralized High School, expects to return to the teaching profession.

Shift in Koje Command Still Army Secret

Gens. Dodd, Coulson Called To Tokyo As Probe Gets Underway

TOKYO (AP) — Brig. Gens. Francis T. Dodd and Charles Colson, former commanders of the Koje Island Communist war prisoner camp, flew to Tokyo today to confer with new United Nations commander Gen. Mark Clark.

Dodd was captured by the Red prisoners last Wednesday and held hostage 78 hours. Colson succeeded him Thursday.

Both were relieved of the camp command and returned to former duties pending an investigation of the Dodd kidnaping and Colson's promise of concessions to the Reds to gain Dodd's release.

Neither Dodd nor Colson was available to the press.

Colson was criticized by U. S. Defense Department officials in Washington for the wording of his concessions to the Red prisoners. A spokesman said it gave an erroneous impression of Allied treatment of Chinese and North Korean prisoners.

Gas Station Breakin Loot Totals 50 Cents

Rupp's Gulf Station at 587 Delaware Ave. was broken into Tuesday night but the only thing taken was 50 cents in change, city police reported today.

Entry was gained by breaking a window in the men's rest room. Ralph Rupp, manager of the station, said the breakin must have occurred between 9 p.m. Tuesday night and 7 a.m. today.

Barn Burns Near New Bloomington

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed a large barn on the Harold Harrison farm, one mile west of New Bloomington on Route 95 at 11:45 this morning.

Destroyed in the fire were three calves in the barn. A milk house near the destroyed barn was badly damaged by the flames. A tractor also was destroyed in the blaze.

No estimate of the loss was made by the New Bloomington Fire Department which battled the blaze.

B-29, Fighter Plane Collide, 1 Dead, 7 Missing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five surviving B-29 crewmen told today of the terrific impact which knocked four of them unconscious when their big bomber and a Marine fighter plane collided Tuesday nearly three miles above the Pacific Ocean.

Altogether, six members of the crew parachuted to safety and seven are missing. One Marine, presumably the pilot of the Marine Corsair fighter plane, was killed. Those rescued suffered only minor injuries.

Witnesses said the big bomber appeared to break in two, the forward section exploding into flames.

Navy and Coast Guard vessels continued searching through the night southwest of Santa Catalina Island for any sign of additional survivors.

A team of four boys from Prospect took top honors Monday in the annual Marion County Future Farmers of America livestock judging contest, held on various farms near Marion and at the fairgrounds.

Participating were teams from Meeker, Claridon, Pleasant, Prospect, Waldo, Morral, Caledonia and LaRue. Boys in the Edison FFA also took part in the judging for practice but were not in competition with the Marion County chapters

The following classes of livestock were judged: Holstein cows and heifers belonging to Fred Jones and Joe Miller, Spotted Poland China and Hampshire hogs belonging to George Cochran and Howard Mitchel and Aberdeen Angus cattle belonging to Weiss Bros.

The winning teams of four members each were: Prospect first with a score of 1658; Claridon, 1632; Caledonia, 1547; Meeker, 1524; Morral, 1459; LaRue, 1456; Waldo, 1382; Pleasant, 1370.

The ten high individual scores were Whyne Selter, Prospect, 459; Jim Swihart, Prospect 436; Donald Krawezyk, Prospect 425; Warren Zachman, Claridon, 425; Charles Snare, Meeker, 418; Ray Price, Claridon, 407; Kenneth Smith, Claridon, 397; Steve Lemke, Claridon, 393; Charles Loyer, Claridon, 390; Donald Lawrence, Claridon, 385.

The contest is held each year to acquaint Future Farmers of America with good livestock and in preparation for the State FFA Judging Contest to be held May 28-29 at Ohio State University, Columbus.

The vocatonal agriculture instructors of the county are A. J. Bishop, Morral; Edwin Parrott, Claridon; D. O. Kile, Caledonia; D. L. Cornett, Pleasant and Waldo; J. W. Watkins, LaRue and Prospect and Burdette Hunter, Meeker School.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

VFW Auxiliary Votes Contribution

Mrs. Mildred Carper, tenth district president, and Mrs. Naomi Kirkpatrick, tenth district conductress, both of Ashland, were special guests when the Auxiliary to Geran-Thomas Post 3313, Veterans of Foreign Wars, met Wednesday night in the post club rooms.

A contribution of $25 was voted to be made to the cancer fund. Plans were made to march in the Armed Forces Day parade on May 15, with all members planning to participate scheduled to meet in the club rooms at 7 p.m. A luncheon followed the meeting.

On Sunday, May 4, in observance of National Hospital Day, representatives of the Auxiliary visited the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital. Attending were Mrs. Bertha Sheppard, Mrs. Evelyn Kimberling, Mrs Myrtle Watts and Mrs. Bessie Burke. Cecil Burke was a guest.

Martin Van Buren, Grover Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt each served as governor of New York before becoming president of the United States.

Credit Curbs on Homes May Be Next

Signs Indicate More Controls On Way Out

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The chances of business getting out from under government controls look much brighter today

Homes may be the next thing to be freed of the present strict credit curbs.

Most building materials also may be set free before long

Steel and aluminum decontrol plans are being studied in Washington

Price decontrol of lead, lead products and lead scrap is being urgently requested by the Lead Industries Association, which points out that lead is now selling below the ceiling

Auto makers hope to be free of production curbs before the year is much older.

Sentiment for dismantling wage and price controls is growing fast the business advisory council of the Commerce Department tells Secretary Sawyer And former Defense Mobilizer Wilson says most businessmen look upon the controls law as a dead duck

ALREADY A NUMBER of commodities and businesses have been freed of controls And last week the Federal Reserve Board took the curbs off installment buying and bank loans

Chief credit control, still on the books is that over home mortgages Builders are urging relaxation, saying that the high down payment requirements on houses in the medium and upper price brackets is holding down sales

The Federal Reserve Board now requires a one-half cash payment on homes costing more than $24 500

Some builders say that price resistance is likely to hold sales of new homes below the million unit mark this year. Lower down-payment requirements in all price brackets would help builders find buyers. The government first wanted housing starts held to 800,000 this year, to save scarce building materials and to curb the threat of inflation

But builders have thought they could find materials for a million new homes, and they expect material controls to be eased. Now their greatest fear is that would-be home owners can't raise the cash needed

THE SPEEDY EASING in the need for controls — set up after the Korean war fired inflation and inspired a major defense program —is due to a number of things:

1 Industrial capacity has expanded much faster than anticipated Raw materials and finished goods are now pouring forth in most instances in greater quantities than consumers (either civilian or military) require.

2 The stretch-out in the defense program is freeing many scarce materials, like steel, aluminum and copper, for civilian uses

3 Consumer sales resistance and saving habits have cut down on the consumption of goods—and hence in many cases prices have fallen well below ceilings.

4 The psychological effect of the first three above has been to raise a fear among businessmen that recession is under way. They want to be free of all controls, therefore, in order to fight it off And many in Washington also think the pump priming which decontrol would bring would be a good thing, both politically and economically

More controls, therefore, may soon be eased—with one string attached the control machinery to be left intact in case it's needed quickly again.

REFUSES TO RUN. Efforts to project him into the Presidential race as a Democratic candidate meet with continued resistance from Illinois Gov Adlai Stevenson (right) While talk of drafting him continued, he was in Los Angeles where he is pictured greeting Gen Harry L Bolen, of the 44th Division, during an inspection of home-state troops who have returned to Camp Cook after action in Korea

RESCUER BITTEN

JACKSON, Miss (UP) — Lonnie W Ratliff, aged 11 never will try to recue a frog from a snake's mouth again The boy was treated at Baptist Hospital for bites on his finger from what is believed to have been a water moccasin

Custom-Made Riots

THE occurrence of a second youth stampede by Communist agitators within a fortnight —Sunday's riot in Essen, following the May Day riot in Tokyo—proves what needs no proving.

The experts inside the Communist conspiracy in charge of stirring up trouble have no lack of human material. All they need to do is to sow the seeds of the whirlwind in the minds of persons too young to know what the conspirators are doing.

Youth is perennially tempted by violence as a means and as an end in itself. There are few old revolutionaries, and those few are strategists of violence, not participants in violence.

Their work has been cut out for them in all the countries which are potentially susceptible to overthrow by the Communist conspiracy. It will be clearer than it ever has been before that the key to human security against the cynicism of the Marxist materialists is in the hearts and minds of human beings, not in the weapons of their governments.

Congress in Reserve

IN VIEW of the Justice Department's apparent inclination to argue before the U.S. Supreme Court that the Constitution, itself, can be ruled unconstitutional under certain temporary conditions, it needs to be borne in mind that Congress retains the power of decision over presidential powers.

It can exercise this power, if necessary, by submission of a constitutional amendment defining powers. Or if that does not seem to be necessary, it can legislate a definition of presidential powers under the exact circumstances which prompted President Truman to seize the steel mills.

It is the job of the judicial branch to interpret laws in existance; to rule on whether or not laws have been administered improperly. But in all cases, the final decision about what needs to be embodied in law rests with Congress.

Asiatic Sleeper

ONE potentiality in an Asiatic stand off between the United Nations and the Communistic conspiracy is never mentioned. Yet, it is the same one which is talked about freely in the standoff which is the aim of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Europe.

The satellites of the Kremlin may tire of the sacrifices they are called on to make for its greater glory. In Asia, the Chinese Communists may reach the conclusion that they alone are taking the rap for Russian expansionism. In Europe, the conclusion may be reached by countries like Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, Poland, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania, following the example of Yugoslavia.

No one in the western world knows what passed between Mao Tse-tung and his sponsors in the Kremlin to precipitate his decision to go to war in Korea. No one knows what he was promised. Little is known of the present status of his drive to coerce millions of Chinese into upholding his ideology.

The apparent reason for the obviously deliberate strategy of letting it be known that the negotiations at Panmunjom either must be concluded successfully or there will be a resumption of all-out warfare is to confront Peiping with an alternative—more sacrifice of Chinese life for the Kremlin, or a truce that would give the Chinese a chance to see what Mao can do against time, the one commodity the Chinese have in limitless quantities.

Five Months of Maytime

IN THE tourist era before Hitler ran amuck in Europe, visitors to Germany invariably praised the neatness of that country. Even the devastation of war has yielded in the postwar years to this pick-up and put-in-place habit of the German people.

The habit has been at the root of Germany's efficiency as a producer. It is a sign of the well-ordered mind which is the strength of the German population in all things except politics, where it is the betrayal of weakness.

The neatness of the United States never has been a matter for praise. It has been, rather, a matter for soul-searching in quest of some plausible reason why neatness is lacking in so many American vistas.

In Maytime, one plausible reason comes to mind. Nature's surge of beauty stirs a desire to help nature do its best. In even the most rundown neighborhoods, there are signs of resistance to the engulfing clutter. The weather, itself, is a challenge to improve the landscape.

What might happen to the American scene if this resistance were exerted throughout the summer—if the same combination of natural beauty, fair weather and the urge to clean up could be maintained until Oct. 1, even America, land of automobile graveyards, tin-can dumps, weatherbeaten billboards and moribund outbuildings might begin to take pride in its appearance.

Heating Up "Cold War"

By David Lawrence

Russians Decide They Can Go a Bit Farther

WASHINGTON

THE WORLD IS about to witness an intensification of what has been called the "cold war" but is in reality the use by the Communists of harassing and vexing tactics designed to obtain concessions that could not be obtained by large-scale war.

Haggling over armistice terms in Korea has about ended, but the next step isn't enlargement of the war. It will, of course, bring a resumption of the desultory fighting that went on before the peace parleys began. There is no present plan on the part of the U.N. to bomb Manchurian bases or to impose a naval blockade on Red China.

Haggling will start soon in another theater—in and around Berlin, where Allied patrols have been turned back recently and where an unarmed French passenger plane has been fired on by the Russian air force.

The Russian strategy is based on the conviction that the western countries will not go to large-scale war and that incidents can be piled up which will not provoke the Allies to declare war, no matter how irritating they may become.

The Allied Powers, on the other hand, have imagined that the more they build up armament the more frightened the Communists will become. The armament is necessary as an insurance, but it is questionable whether it will deter the communists from moving up to crisis after crisis, knowing the armament will never be used, especially in the face of a possible retreat which Moscow can always maneuver if the going gets too hot.

What can the West do? What are its alternatives? Two can play the game as well as one. The western countries have it in their power to impose a squeeze on vital materials and products, but this will mean sacrifices and a high cost. For where trade is embargoed, financial losses to somebody are involved, and the way that this is usually done in wartime is to buy up the supply for stockpile purposes. Still this is less costly in the long run than a 20-year "cold war," with heavy armament expenditures every year for an indefinite period.

THE SECOND and perhaps the more important method of vexing the enemy is to send arms and ammunition to those people behind the "iron curtain," especially in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Bulgaria and Romania,, who are really bold enough to organize movements such as were carried on during the last war in areas occupied by the German armies. This will lead to "purges", and, while some lives will be sacrificed by men willing to be martyrs to freedom, it will then intensify the resistance operations and give the Communist government in Moscow some real trouble in its own back yard.

A "cold war" can be carried on which will bring Moscow to terms; but it requires boldness and imagination and persistence. Too much of the thinking in western countries has been devoted to the idea that the only thing that can persuade the Communists to refrain from their aggressive activities is to threaten military action, which inevitably leads to a Third World War.

What Russia has been carrying on for five years now is a new type of warfare, and the Allies have been slow to realize that a "limited war" in Korea has the approval of Moscow as well as the West. The Communists have feared that a MacArthur policy would lead to an enlarged war, and that's exactly the feeling of the administration here and of the governments allied with us. When MacArthur was dismissed, it was tantamount to assuring the Communists that there would be no follow-up by military methods and that the "cold war," with its hit-and-run tactics, could be resumed.

FOR NEARLY a year the Communists have played their talking game at the armistice table, but now the Allies have decided to quit talking and let nature take its course. No threat has been made. The Korean war merely is to drag on as before, and it never will be settled until some countermoves in the "cold war" are made in the European theater, where the Communists are still counting on a divided alliance and political infiltration to keep the western countries at bay. As the argument over giving their sovereignty back to the German people grows more and more spirited, the Communists may be expected to start another Berlin blockade and apply similar harassing tactics in other parts of the world. The real question is whether the western countries are going to become reconciled to the necessity of fighting a "cold war" as the Russians are doing—giving them some of their own medicine —or whether the situation is to be allowed to drift aimlessly, with tremendous expenditures for more and more armament that will become obsolete as the years go on.

The Class of '52

By TRUMAN TWILL

HUNDREDS, probably thousands, of commencement addresses are in process of preparation by speakers who soon will be honored to stand before graduating classes on this happy occasion, etc.

All the speeches will be sincere. Nothing brings out sincerity like a chance to tell the rising generation the score. It is the opportunity of a lifetime to strike a balance between bright hope and dark disenchantment, which is the beginning of wisdom.

But there is a feeling among those of mature years who listen to these distillations of wisdom year after year, that they are a little too heady for those who sup from the cup.

To be truthful about it, commencement speakers in their well-meant attempts to rise to the occasion fly so high they lose contact with reality: The alternative would be even worse: To sink so low into disillusionment they would lose sight of the sky.

Why couldn't a commencement speaker admit what is true of all of us—that our lives have been and the lives of the graduates will be a mixture of faith and cynicism, of flying high and sinking low? Why wouldn't it be the ultimate wisdom to face up to the fact no one ever can be put squarely on the beam and held there through the course of the years?

In that mood, a commencement speaker could wish the boys and girls luck, after admonishing them not to take any more wooden dimes than necessary; wooden nickels now have been called in by the U.S. Treasury.

HE COULD WISH them enough wisdom to step around most of the sucker traps which will be dug for them by shrewd operators who know the supply of suckers never diminishes But he should refrain from describing these traps in advance, since he couldn't possibly know what they will be.

He might point out to them in humility that they will be squeezed all their lives between competing bidders for power, and that in many instances they, themselves, will be doing the bidding.

But in all cases he would sidestep the temptation to tell them what he thinks he knows about the merit of the competitors, because that is something every man and woman must determine for himself; it cannot be determined for him. That, itself, is one of the techniques of the power struggle—to try to line up its victims on one side or the other.

And in what is sometimes called the phenobarbital age, the speaker might bear down on the advantages of living one day at a cepts of religion, ethics and law time, using whatever timeless premay contribute to peace of mind while doing it.

In closing, the speaker might admit cheerfully, even with a touch of humor, that in spite of innumerable damfool mistakes which will be repeated again and again and again in the future this is a pretty good world the graduates are going into, with a high going-concern value which they will be lucky to preserve. And then without further ado, he should sit down, before he says too much and spoils the effect.

Constitutional Issues Date Far Back

By Clarke Beach

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S views on his constitutional powers in the steel seizure reminded steel industry attorneys of Kings James I, Charles I, James II, George III.

They reminded Truman and his attorneys of Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, Abraham Lincoln, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The great constitutional issues involved in the steel case have been heatedly debated in this country almost since the founding of the republic. Before that they go back nearly 200 years further in English history

The Constitution says very little about the powers of the President except that he shall be the executive and that he shall uphold the Constitution and see that the laws are executed.

So from the start the "strict constructionists" have argued that the makers of the Constitution meant for the President's powers to be very narrowly defined. The opposing argument has been that the Constitution doesn't specify a lot of powers and limitations for the President, as it does for Congress, because it was intended that he should assume about any power he needed to do his job, provided he did nothing unlawful or unconstitutional.

One of the first hot arguments started when President George Washington in 1793 issued a sort of proclamation of neutrality in the war between France and Great Britain.

Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson was greatly aroused. Not only were he and his party shouting for liberty and France, he was alarmed to see Washington take so broad a view of presidential powers.

—:—

SINCE ONLY Congress had the power to declare war, Jefferson reasoned, only Congress should decide whether the U.S. was to remain at peace.

Secretary of the Treasury Alexander Hamilton took the occasion to write some very strong newspaper columns under the pen name of "Pacificus" defending Washington's proclamation.

He said that the Constitution, which he had helped frame six years before, intended for the President to have many more powers than those specifically enumerated.

It specified only the principal ones, Hamilton said, "leaving the rest to flow from the general grant of that (executive) power, interpreted in conformity with other parts of the Constitution, and with the principle of free government."

Hamilton's articles shocked Jefferson. He asked James Madison, another signer of the Constitution, to reply publicly to "Pacificus."

Madison did, but what he said makes dry reading. He was more pungent in some comments he wrote to Jefferson:

"The proclamation was . . . an assumption of prerogatives not clearly found in the Constitution, and having the appearance of being copied from a monarchial model."

EVEN SUCH A STRICT constructionist as Jefferson, however, spread his powers broadly in at least one instance when he became President. He purchased the Louisiana Territory from Napoleon in 1803 without any specific authority—a fact he freely admitted. He did it, he said, because he had to act fast to accomplish something important to the national welfare. Congress sustained the purchase but did a lot of kicking.

Chief Justice John Marshall in 1804 took up the cudgels against President Adams. He ruled that a naval captain could be sued for damages for having seized a merchant ship under orders from Adams that he held were illegal.

The fight really originated, U.S. Steel Co. lawyers said, when King John was forced to sign Magna Carta in 1215. Five articles in that document forbade the sovereign to seize the property of freemen unless the act was authorized by the courts and legislature. That principle became incorporated into English common law, the basis for most U.S. law.

The steel attorneys recalled that in the 1600s the English people fought and won their battle for constitutional government. Their campaign started against James I, when he asserted the doctrne of the divine right of kings. They beheaded his son, Charles I, when he tried to rule without a parliament. They kicked out Charles' son, James II, when he tried dictatorial measures.

Result of the campaign was the English Bill of Rights. But the colonies still had to make a long, bloody fight against tyranny when George III tried to shove Americans around.

Among the galaxy of historical figures the government invoked in the steel case were these Presidents:

—:—

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, who seems to have been the first president to direct a property seizure. On April 27, 1861, he ordered the Secretary of War to take over the railroads and telegraph lines between Washington and Annapolis, Md. Among other things, he ordered a blockade of southern ports before war began.

Woodrow Wilson, who seized a plant, armed merchant vessels and operated telegraph and telephone lines without authority from Congress.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, who swapped U. S. destroyers for British bases and sent troops to Iceland without Congress' permission before the war, and seized 12 plants before the War Disputes Act gave him authority to do so—three of them before the U.S. entered the war.

Theodore Roosevelt, who wrote in his autobiography: "I declined to adopt the view that what was imperatively necessary for the nation could not be done by the President unless he could find some specific authorization to do it."

The the steel company quoted the autobiographic writings of T.R.'s disillusioned friend, William Howard Taft:

"There is no undefined residuum of power which he (the President) can exercise because it seems to him to be in the public interest."

—:—

WHAT CAN the Supreme Court compel the chief executive to do, if anything? Marshall tried for years to subpena Jefferson and never succeeded. Can the courts enjoin the President and make it stick? When the Supreme Court held that Lincoln was acting unconstitutionally in suspending habeas corpus during the Civil War, Chief Justice Roger B. Taney said the Court would issue no injunction but hoped the President would voluntarily act upon its decision.

Taney decided merely to order that the Court records and his opinion be delivered to the President. He added—somewhat wearily, it sounds now:

"It will then remain for that high officer, in fulfillment of his constitutional obligation to 'take care that the laws be faithfully executed to determine what measure he will take to cause the civil process of the United States to be respected and enforced."

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Pioneers found funds for paying lodge dues scarce and frequently it was necessary to play on the feelings of the member to bring delinquents up to date. A newspaper account relates how one brother, in arrears in the amount of $20, broke into sobs when reminded that should he be suddenly called away he would be denied the attendance of the lodge in full regalia. And, it was added, "we never were so well prepared for a corpse." He promised, as soon as he could raise the money, he would pay, adding "but in the meantime, if I should be taken away kind o' sudden before them dues are paid, come anyhow and view the remains, and if you can't wear your regalia, bring along your umbrellers."

Electric Champagne

MOSCOW (AP)—One form of making champagne here is an "electrical method." Moscow scientists have claimed that by electrocuting the champagne in a certain way it can be made as good as the finest of French champagne. It only takes a very short time, so they say. Official Soviet figures show champagne production is up 121 per cent over 1950.

Horses, Horses, Horses

HORSES ARE NOW occupying the inventive mind. Where Edison burned the midnight oil trying to solve the problem of light, inventors are now hard at work striving to bring winners to racing fans by the push-button route. The U. S. Patent Office announces on a single day patents to two such men. It is comforting to feel that science can help a man prove himself wrong, and that it may soon be possible for a horse player to go broke with less allowance for human error.

Patent No. 2,594,696 has been issued to Arthur Strudwick of Long Lake, Mich., on "a device for calculating horses' chances." It appears to be a sort of "ponygraph" or "skinnermeter," on which buttons are used to pick winners. Thirteen buttons are on a small plate, each button representing a past performance statistic. You work the buttons in connection with the daily entries and charts. Another inventor, George Malmgren of Chicago, comes out with a pencil, in the barrel of which are graphs and tubes. You twist the pencil to certain handicap figures. If the dial on it shows "red" you lay off. Shudda Haddim has tried both devices. "I ain't certain which is the best and think it is a photo," he says.

"On the button device you have to use charts showing a horse's history, so you don't save no time," he declares. "In fact, it gave me such a stiff workout I was in no shape for the race. All the selections lost, but it was due to machinery trouble. A couple of buttons was out of order. When the buttons is out of order and the players and the horses is also out of order also it is murder. I am for a device that uses zippers instead of buttons."

Shudda Haddim says the Strudwick invention has one big advantage. "The plate threw the wife off," he explains. "She had never seen me pick horses off a platter and she thought I had forgotten the ponies and was eatin' regularly."

He says that the Malmgren horse-picking pencil fascinates him, but he is looking for a pen that can pick them under water. "The trouble with me is I always pick 'em on dry land where I can breathe without no trouble," says Shudda Haddim. "This makes me overconfident. If I studied the charts under water I would have to concentrate more."

"How did you do with the pencil?" we asked.

"The dial got stuck between the red and the green and didn't show no color at all. I took this as a hunch to lay off the skinners that day. Know what happens? Every horse I picked with that pencil won!"

CONGRESS IS TO inquire into crime programs on video which has ignored its professed code almost completely. . . . We hope it touches on the fact that top horror programs, blueprinting every detail of shocking crimes, are sponsored by some of our foremost industrialists. . . . Haven't they any kids of their own? . . . If General Eisenhower is elected President, Irving Berlin and Buck Crouse rate appointments in the cabinet. . . . They started the whole thing with the "They Like Ike" number. . . . Mr Averell Harriman was once an 8-goal polo player, and it would be a novelty to see a man ride into the Democratic convention and go after the nomination with a mallet.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Thursday, May 14, 1942.

The Red Army reported that it was smashing at the very gates of Kharkov, important industrial center of the Ukraine, in a full-scale spring offensive coinciding with German preoccupation on the Kerch peninsula, 380 miles to the south, where the Russians admitted giving some ground.

A 17-year-old Harding High School senior, Paul Weller, son of Mrs. V. O. Weller of 273 Bellevue Ave., who had a perfect four-point average for four years of high school study, placed sixth in the state among 50,000 Ohio high school seniors who took scholarship tests, first in the Ohio State University district, which is composed of central-Ohio counties, and first in Marion County. Weller was valedictorian of the class of '42.

Rex Martin, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin of south of Marion, was struck by lightning as he stood on the back porch of his home watching a brief electrical storm. He was not seriously injured.

Ye Merrie Players, the Harding High School organization for casts and production staffs of senior plays, came of age at the annual dinner meeting in the Forest Lawn community house. The Players were organized in 1921 by Miss Lucile Foreman.

The formal opening of Wise's newly remodeled super market at 879 E. Center St. was held today.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — It was Saturday, May 14, 1932.

The burial shovel used by the kidnaper of the Lindbergh baby was reported found in the underbrush near the spot where the baby's body was discovered.

Mrs. Mary Cook, 80, died at her home on Waterloo St.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garverick entertained at dinner at their home on Wildwood Ct., complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Millard Thibaut, who were married recently.

Mrs. Floyd Lattimore was given a surprise party by a group of 30 friends who called at her home on W. Pleasant St. in celebration of her birthday anniversary.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

The welcome home party for my bookie was very exciting. . . . He came in first, the cops came in second and then the fun began.

—:—

In the next race he was leading at the fruit salad, the cops cut him down to half a length before he passed the fish and the field scattered out the windows.

—:—

They led him back prancing and neighing to put the garland of handcuffs on him.

—:—

He says, "Don't you know the tax stamp on gambling was ruled illegal?" They says, "So was the tax stamp on tea . . . Are you trying to start a revolution?"

—:—

Anyway, he asked Judge McNoggin, his legal adviser, how it looked and McNoggin says, "6 to 5."

—:—

The bookie says, "Those aren't bad odds," and McNoggin says, "I'm referring to years not odds."

So we're stuck again with not another safe investment around like horses.

Holding their last meeting of the 1951-52 season were members of the Ben Hur Club who met for an indoor picnic Monday afternoon at the Women's Club Home. Hostess was Mrs. L. Thompson. Mrs. Walter E. Hane, president of the Federation, was an honor guest. Mrs. E. W. Koeppen conducted the devotions, choosing Mark 9 23, and reading from the devotional book, "Streams in the Desert." Announcement was made of the white elephant auction to be sponsored by the Federation, Saturday morning at the Probst Supply Co. on W. Center St. Proceeds will be used to carry on the work of the organization. Programs were distributed for the coming club season which will open Oct. 6. Guests included Mrs. Hane, Mrs. Almira Salsbury of Richwood and Mrs. Charles Lamb.

Mrs. J. B. Corbin, Mrs. Carl Haas and Mrs. John Wesley were hostesses to the Garden Gate Unit of the Marion Garden Club at a morning coffee Thursday at Ringer's Inn. Spring flowers decorated the tables and favors were crocheted cups and saucers. Places were marked with gaily colored spoons. Mrs. Wallace E Smith was presented a May basket in appreciation of her work in the recent flower show Plans were made for a silent auction for the July 10 meeting and announcement was made of the barter mart in which all the units will participate, on May 27, at McKinley Park. Luncheon will be at 1 p.m. Mrs. Smith reported on plans for work at the Lilac Trail this summer. Mrs. C. N. Briggs, program chairman, announced a luncheon and garden tour on June 12.

For the program, in charge of Mrs. Ray Dobbins, chairman, Mrs. Curtis Laubner gave the thought for the day. A discussion on varied plants was held.

A member of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, Mrs Bausinger is also a member of the Women's Guild, formerly the Harmonie Society, the oldest women's group in the church Interested in events of the day she keeps up with the news, through her morning, afternoon and evening television programs. Interested in sports she follows the seasons and is now launched into one of her favorite sports, baseball.

Marion Garden Center Notes

ROCK GARDENS

Constant care is needed to keep a rock garden at its best Weeds frequently gain a foothold and some of the choicest plans become smothered or crowded out. Replacements also have to be made from time to time as the more rampant growing plants take over more than their allotted area. When planning replacements consider these two interesting plants: Siberian Coral Lily and Poppy Mallow. The Siberian Coral Lily is a true dwarf lily for the rock garden. It produces fiery coral red flowers on 15 inch stems, which give brilliant splashes of color. Dormant bulbs may be planted in the spring; the Poppy Mallow, is an everblooming rock plant, covered all summer with red cup-shaped flowers on creeping stems. While nearly all plants used in rock gardens are perennials, this does not mean that they will live and thrive forever. Many "wear out" and instead of coddling them, they should be replaced with new, vigorous plants

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

SUMMER'S NEW two-piece hats are literally stacked to the brim with practicality.

The double-duty models—originally created by Christian Dior—are combinations of scarves and sailors.

A lady first wraps a print silk scarf tightly around her head, tying it in a knot at the nape of her neck and tucking under the ends.

Then she adds a wide-brimmed straw sailor atop it. The sailor, which picks up a color in the scarf's print, is set squarely on the head and pushed forward enough to cover the front hairline

The result is a unique, sleek headgear for luncheons, cocktails or even informal dinners.

It also effectively conceals pinned-up curls during that awkward period between an afternoon swim and the social swim of the evening.

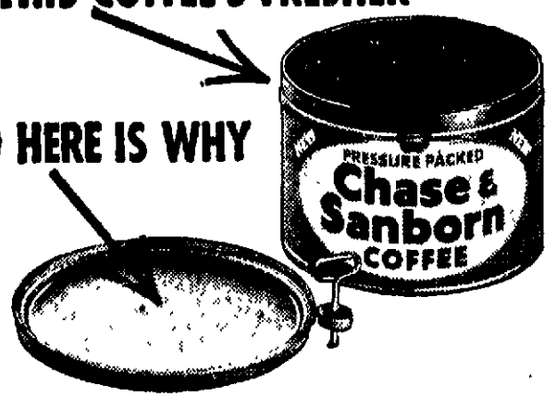
THIS COFFEE'S FRESHER

AND HERE IS WHY



Why take chances on getting flat, stale coffee? The old "flat-top" cans give you no way of testing. But this new Dome Top lets you test every can of Chase & Sanborn for freshness before you buy. Press the Dome Top and feel how the flavor-protecting pressure inside keeps it round, firm. It's so firm, you know this coffee's fresh. If it's not firm, take another . . . one you're sure is fresh! No flat-top can, no other coffee package, gives you this test!

Crawford County Commissioners Sell Apartments

BUCYRUS — Three veterans' housing apartments, located in Bucyrus, Crestline and Galion, were sold by Crawford County commissioners at public auction at the courthouse Saturday. The properties brought $32,250, Roy Eichhorn, commissioners' chairman, reported.

A six-family apartment in Galion was purchased by R. L. Patterson of Galion for $17,100. Harry Barrett of Bucyrus purchased the four-apartment dwelling in Bucyrus for $9,150, and the three family apartment in Crestline went to T. J. O'Connor of Mansfield on his bid of $6,000.

The three apartments, which were renovated homes, were purchased by the county in 1947 under a state legislature bill, which provided funds to political subdivisions to provide emergency housing for veterans.

Sale of the dwellings in which the county had approximately $47,500 invested was ordered last month by commissioners who ruled the dwellings were no longer needed for public use.

RECEIVED TREATS IN GROSS CASE. Assistant corporation counsel Victor J. Herwitz (right) talks to Jack Gross, brother of singing gambler Harry Gross, after he reported he was mugged and beaten near his New York hotel by two thugs. Gross said that the men ordered him to tell his older brother "to keep his trap shut" at the departmental trial of five policemen accused of protecting a multi-million dollar bookmaking ring. Herwitz also received a telephone threat to "lay off."

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

There was no frown on Harry Underwood's face as he listened to my story of Ronald Brixton's suffering, but his eyes were saddened, and the lines in his face appeared more sharply etched. He is a highly senstive man, with innate chivalry, and I knew he had been touched—and deeply troubled—by my recital.

"Poor lad," he said heavily, "and poor Marion! It's mighty tough on both of them."

He stopped speaking, but I realized that he had not finished, and I did not interrupt him. Then it came, the decision I dreaded.

"But, Lady Fair," he said, "I do not see how that alters the fact that it would be madness to permit that marriage to go on. Ronald realizes that, fortunately."

My fingers itched to seize his shoulders and shake him violently. But I willed myself back to composure.

"But Marion doesn't," I said at last, "and I must warn you that using the word 'permit' in connection with her intended marriage would have the same effect that waving a red shawl at a bull is supposed to have."

I saw instantly that I had jarred him with the inevitable knowledge, coming with a jolt to all parents, but with an especial turn of the knife to those whose relations with their children have been close and understanding—that marriage, no matter how disastrous it may appear, is one subject where a "hands off" policy is the only possible procedure, if they ever wish to come within speaking distance of their grandchildren.

He jerked his big body upward in his chair as if somebody had pricked him savagely with a stiletto. Then he sank back heavily in his chair, and looked at me with such stark misery in his eyes that my throat muscles constricted convulsively.

"Granting that you've made a point," he said, "what would you do if Faith should present you with a similar problem some day?"

If I had not already thought about that angle, his query would have discomfited me completely. But I had faced that theoretical problem in the "stilly watches of the night," and found the heart-wringing solution.

"I should do in reality, and with no reservations, exactly what Lillian is appearing to do with Marion," I told him steadily. "I should reason with her, paint a realistic picture of what confronted her, and then, when I saw that she was adamant, I should capitulate, give her my consent and my blessing, and help her in every way to achieve her desire."

His keen eyes were alertly scanning my face as I talked, and I was not surprised at the question he fairly hurled at me when I had finished.

"You have just said 'as Lillian is appearing to do with Marion,'" he repeated. "Just what do you mean my that?"

I took a deep breath—I needed it—and spoke steadily.

"I mean this:" I said steadily. "Outwardly Lillian is pretending to approve Marion's plan for marrying Ronald. But secretly she is planning to see Ronald alone before Marion can reach him, and bolster his refusal to marry Marion, as only she can."

His face was ashen as I finished, and his voice was husky, resentful, despairing, as he blurted out a frantic "No, no, no! You can't mean that. You must be mistaken. Lillian is so open, so high-minded. She couldn't do a thing like that. Tell me this instant if this is just your own theory, or whether you have any grounds for what you have just said."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

UNNOTICED by a jittery nation and a nervous government caught in the tensest strike wave since the '37 sitdowns, reckless wildcatters have been unleashing rebel walkout costing millions of dollars in wages and profits.

Cocky second-string union officials, who know that their national chiefs are either in, or watching closely, the battle between giant labor and giant industry, are going to get slapped down hard—and soon—for throwing picket lines around plants every time a foreman uses earthy Anglo-Saxon language or anytime it looks like a nice day to knock off and go fishing.

These are angry moments. Union chiefs and industrialists who have kidded each other across the dinner table are cussing each other out now. But none of this fury should wash out the sane voices, whatever side they're on. And one of Phil Murray's own CIO vice presidents has just spoken sanely and rationally, calling on the tough little guys down below to remember that unionism is no license for disruption of the mechanism that gives them their daily bread.

IN THE BLUNTEST words yet thrown at a union's membership in my memory, Leland Stanford Buckmaster, scholarly leader of the 200,000 men who make America's rubber, warns them to kick out the local officials who don't lead them intelligently and who lead them into useless strikes.

"If your local union is plagued with this wildcat business and has officers who encourage or condone such action, why doesn't the membership of the local union get rid of them? he asks in an open letter to the CIO's strike-plagued Rubber Workers.

"Vote them out of office and elect people who are real union people and who have the ability, intelligence and courage to handle the problems of the membership in a sane, logical and efficient manner."

THIS ADVICE from a national labor official to his people is big news to me; it is the other side of the strike story, which so often appears to be the only activity. But Buckmaster has more to say; which has impact on the public.

"Unfortunately, some of our members in some of our local unions have developed the reckless and dishonest habit of taking matters in their own hands with a total disregard for the contract, for their local union as such and for their fellow workers.

"As a result they bring discredit to their union and they inflict a severe monetary loss upon their fellow workers, the company and themselves."

Buckmaster then relates the story of one rubber plant which was wildcatted so much it was shut down anywhere from "one to seven days each week."

"No one bothered to present a written grievance. Each time a work stoppage occurred the Grievance Committee would walk across the street, meet with the Personnel Director, and battle it out until some sort of settlement was reached."

—:—

FINALLY, the International Rubber Workers' Union headquarters expelled 60 of the wildcatters.

"Each appellant was asked the question: 'Why did you engage in these work stoppages?'" Buckmaster reports.

"None of the appellants gave any reasonable or logical answer. One fellow came up with the prize answer:

"'Well I shut the place down on several occasions because it was a nice day and I wanted to go fishing. I did not want the other guys to have more money in their pay envelopes the next week than I had in mine'."

Now this is written by a militant CIO vice president. He knows that a point can be reached when stupid unionism can ruin itself.

"Why do workers behave in that manner?" he asks. "Well, there are always a few of them who just don't give a hoot for the rights of other people. Some of them believe that they are making a show of militancy when in fact they are simply hiding behind the protection of the Union . . . When that happens the local union is no longer an organizatoin—it is a mess."

REGARDLESS of anyone's position on the recent CIO national strikes, here is Buckmaster showing labor statesmanship. So did the slim, soft-voiced, erudite Jack Knight when he forbade his California people to slash Korean oil supplies. So did Phil Murray when he took the leadership and kept his million steel workers from wildcatting.

Conflict we'll always have. That's our democracy. But we'll always need this kind of labor statesmanship to preserve this democracy. Otherwise we'll beat each other into a second rate nation.

City Hospital Inspected By 300 in Tours

Approximately 300 persons were conducted on tours through City Hospital Monday when the hospital joined others throughout the nation in observing "National Hospital Day."

Members of the Woman's Hospital Board and the Junior Woman's Board, along with hospital personnel and Red Cross assistants, including staff aids and Gray Ladies, assisted throughout the afternoon in greeting the visitors, taking them through the various departments of the hospital and serving refreshments in the hospital dining room.

The various items of equipment used in administering to patients were displayed, including the oxygen tent purchased by the Woman's Hospital Board and the new isolette in the maternity ward purchased by the Junior Woman's Board.

Persons were conducted through the clinics, maintenance, drugs and solutions rooms, the maternity section of the second floor, through the annex to the X-ray, laboratory and surgery departments, the pediatrics section, kitchen, laundry and the dining room.

Visitors also were shown a movie, "You're The Doctor," depicting a patient going through a hospital, which was furnished by the Central Hospital Service, and also a film on cancer provided by the Marion Cancer Society.

Concert Artists For 1952-53 Season Named

The Marion Community Concert Association, which closed a successful membership drive Saturday, today announced the artists who will appear on the 1952-53 concert season.

Three concerts will be given throughout the season. Artists will include Monique de la Bruchollerie, French pianist who made her North American recital debut at Gray Chapel on the Ohio Wesleyan campus last season, Edwin Stefee, baritone and Nan Merriman, mezzo soprano and the Longines Symphonette. Miss Merriman and the Symphonette will be presented in a joint program.

More than 1,000 memberships, enrolled by the 100 workers in a week-long campaign, made possible the presentation of this year's concert programs.

Memberships will be recognized in any community where Community Concerts are presented, Mrs. John F. Lacey, president of the association, announced today. Patrons in other cities also will be eligible to attend the local programs, she said.

Mrs. A. G. Birch, campaign chairman, speaking for the association, expressed her appreciation of the work done by the workers, and praised the wholehearted cooperation of the public in purchasing memberships.

Dates for the concerts will be announced later.

Westinghouse Moving Plants To Columbus

EAST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—An official of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. said today the company's local household refrigeration units plant will be moved to Columbus, O., after the defense emergency ends.

Works manager Carroll B. Dick said a definite date for the transfer can not yet be set.

He said construction of the Columbus plant is not completed.

Also to be moved to Columbus is the company's refrigertaion cabinet plant which is now in Mansfield, O.

Dick said a "substantial" number of persons are employed in the East Springfield plant. The exact number could not be determined immediately.

Ready For Hero

By Hal Boyle

ABILENE, KAS

THIS CELEBRATED old cow town is looking forward with somewhat worried pride to the return next month of one of the local boys who made good.

He used to work at the creamery here, where other employes taught him how to shoot craps.

There wasn't much of a crowd at the railroad station to see him off when he went east, years ago.

But Abilene, a town of about 7,000 population, is expecting 50,000 to 100,000 visitors to help welcome back its favorite son—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Residents here aren't sure whether the event will tear the town apart. But it is no secret that most hope it will springboard "Ike" into a Republican presidential nomination. The biggest disaster that could happen hereabouts right now would be for a baby boy to be born with an "I Like Taft" button in his tummy.

During the two-day homecoming celebration starting June 4 Gen. Eisenhower will lay the cornerstone for a museum to house his war trophies, address a throng in Eisenhower Park, give a press conference and review a mammoth parade containing 36 floats symbolizing his career.

"Ike" definitely has replaced Wild Bill Hickok as the number one hero of Abilene. Hickok was the peace officer who brought law and order to the town in the wild and woolly days when it was America's top cattle shipping center and its saloons outnumbered its business houses.

SUMMARIZING HOME TOWN sentiment for Eisenhower, Charles M. Harger, 89-year-old publisher of the Abilene Reflector-Chronicle, said:

"If you want to know how the people here feel about Ike, go out on the street and call him a bad name—and see how quick something happens to you."

Above the main street floats a giant sign saying: "Eisenhower For President." It has fallen down, or been blown down, four times since last November. Now it is firmly cabled to two banks.

"We've spent $150 to keep that sign up," said Henry B. Jameson, young newspaper executive here who served as a war correspondent with Eisenhower's forces in Europe. "It'll stay up now even if the bank walls fall down."

Despite the sign, Jameson, one of the committee members in charge of the Eisenhower celebration, said that "his welcome home is not set up on a political basis. We have Democrats on the committee."

The planners are expecting at least 10 state governors for the festivities. Among the scores of special trains will be two from Texas—one containing 115 Texans, the other containing the horses they will ride in the parade. Some 700 peace officers from all parts of Kansas will be brought here to handle traffic.

One of the more delicate issues involved is how long Gen. Eisenhower plans to remain in this first visit home.

"Naturally, we want him to stay on as long as he can," said one resident, and added dubiously: "But I don't see how the town can handle the crowds for more than two days."

THE MECCA OF MOST visitors here is Ike's old family home. The Eisenhower boys turned it over to the Eisenhower Foundation after the death of their mother in 1946.

It has been kept just as she left it. Her dust cap still hangs from a rocking chair in the room in which she died. On the wall of the second floor bedroom where Eisenhower slept as a boy is hung the old-fashioned motto: "Thy will be done."

J. Earl Endacott, executive director of the Eisenhower Foundation, said 100,000 people had visited the home in recent years. They came from every state of the union and 76 foreign countries.

"One of them," remarked Endacott, "was an ex-cannibal from a South Sea island."

Just how he became an Ike fan nobody knows. But in Abilene today it's enough to be an Eisenhower supporter. You don't have to explain your past.

Mitchell Named By Group Of Commissioners

Luther J. Mitchell, Marion County Commissioner, was elected vice president of the Central Northwestern Commissioners' Association Monday night at a bimonthly meeting held at the Mathews Supper Club in Findlay.

Ross Winters, Wyandot County commissioner, was named president of the group and Charles Reed, Wyandot County commissioner's clerk, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The Monday night meeting was sponsored by the Hancock County Board of Commissioners and hosts were the Central Oil Emulsion Co. of Findlay and the Hancock Brick and Tile Co. of Findlay.

The next meeting will be held June 14 at the Fairway Club near Galion. It will be sponsored by the Crawford County commissioners and hosts will be the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co.

SUE CAROLE BROWN

LaRue Girl Is Winner Of Scholarship

Bowling Green U Award Goes To Sue Carole Brown

Special to The Star

LARUE—Miss Sue Carol Brown, member of the 1952 graduating class at LaRue High School, has been awarded a scholarship to Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, O.

Notification of the award was received by Miss Brown from Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, president of the university.

The scholarship which is for the 1952-53 academic year, covers the registration fee for both semesters.

Miss Brown was informed she had been awarded the scholarship on the basis of outstanding scholastic record, high character and general ability to succeed in college, as indicated by information studied by the faculty scholarship committee.

Candidates for scholarships this year were unusually capable and it is a distinct honor to have been chosen from such a large number of highly qualified applicants, Miss Brown was told by Dr. McDonald.

She is the valedictorian of her class and daughter of Mrs. Fay Brown of LaRue.

Aim To Halt "Drop-Outs" of Students

High School Objectives Reported by Principal

Harding High School's two objectives for the school year were reviewed by Principal Cecil Gabler Monday night at the May meeting of the board of education in the school administration building.

The objectives, Gabler reported, are to serve the community and to decrease the number of students dropping out of school.

The High school owes a service to the community, he said, because Marion citizens have indicated by a vote approving the construction of a new building that they are willing to support the school. To achieve this goal, the school administration has made efforts to cooperate with the local employment service and has conducted a student employment center at the school, so that employment needs of the community can be cleared through the school.

In addition, attempts have been made to "sell Marion" to local students by such projects as Senior Visitation Day, Gabler told the board. Another service offered to the community is night classes for adults, to supplement the educational needs of Marion citizens, he said.

The high school principal reported that steps taken to achieve the second goal, to cut down the number of students dropping out of school, include a slight change in the grading system and careful screening of students before work permits are granted. He also announced that the programs, which will be available when the new building opens in September, 1953, will encourage students to complete their education, rather than drop out before graduation. The increased facilities in the new building will permit complete courses in commercial and vocational training, music, art and driver training.

The number of students who left school during the present school year was four per cent of the total fall enrollment, while drop-outs during the 1950-1951 school year totalled nine per cent of the fall enrollment, the school principal announced.

The potential Harding High School enrollment for next fall is 1,142, he said. This figure includes 312 students who are now juniors, 381 sophomores, and 449 who are freshmen in the city's three junior high schools.

Burned Car

partment was called and they brought the fire under control.

The car was then towed to Andrew Kuenzli to the Nevada Wrecking Yard, where it is today.

An odd thing about the auto was that the license plates were gone and an attempt had been made to remove all marks of identification. Every plate of identity had been removed. Even the small serial plates had been obliterated.

The fire obviously was of incendiary origin. The blaze had started quickly and burned so fiercely that the window glass melted. The motor was untouched by the blaze.

Will Sift Ashes

The London Prison Farm crime laboratory experts were scheduled to sift the ashes inside the car today in an attempt to link the car with the murder victim.

Speculation runs high in all quarters as to who the victim is and how the murder was committed.

On the evidence gathered so far here is the way the reconstructed crime looks:

The victim was killed some where outside the immediate Wyandot County area, and driven to the woods where the blast occurred, probably carried in the trunk of the car. Whether the killer knew the woods where the blast occurred before he drove into it cannot be easily determined.

He may have been driving along with the dynamite and the dead man and chosen the woods on the Wyss farm by chance.

The victim was apparently a well-groomed man. He had had his hair cut shortly before he was shot and his nails were well cared for. His killer stripped him of all clothing except his under shorts and T-shirt. He then shaved the ends of his fingers off to prevent identification by fingerprints. However, fingerprint experts have been able to get fragmentary prints and they are being checked.

In Gangland Style

Officials believe the murder is a gangland killing. A gang attempting to reap vengeance on an unwanted man.

However, the fact of the attempt to destroy the body seems to indicate to some that it might be a vengeance killing. Gangland killers seldom go to such extremes to hide their victims' bodies, unless the identity of the victim points to the identity of the killer.

The blast seems amateurish in the way it was carried out. The dynamite was apparently placed on the top of the body and detonated. If the killer had had any experience with dynamite he would have placed logs or boards on top of the charge to confine the blast and blow the body to bits, instead of leaving legs, arms and other limbs to reveal the identity.

Again he should have known that in many cases dynamite can be traced by bits of paper of burned fuse. A quantity of burned fuse was found attached to a nearby bush.

The attempt to destroy the stolen car was amateurish, if that was done by the killer. Besides the secret numbers, the auto could be traced by the chemical composition of the burned paint, borings could be taken from the engine and determination of the identity could be narrowed by checking the chemical composition with factory reports. The style of the body and the make could hardly be destroyed unless the auto was completely melted, and that is almost impossible.

The scene of the blast was gruesome. The larger parts of the blasted body had been removed, but many parts, too small to gather up, still clung to bushes, tree trunks, and two small hog houses about 50 feet away.

Two large joints of a human backbone still lay in the small depression made by the force of explosion. About 20 feet away a ring of human flesh and small parts of bone had been formed. The flesh splattered against the hog houses left dark streaks in the bright sunlight

Sheriff Stansberry reports two persons have already contacted him in an attempt to identify the victim. One came from Dayton and another from Hardin County, but neither of the descriptions tallied, Sheriff Stansberry said.

Venire Drawn For May Term Grand Jury

Names of 30 Marion County residents, subpenaed to serve on the May term of the Grand Jury, were announced today by Calvin Oborn, Marion County clerk of courts.

The jury will convene Thursday and will hear evidence in seven cases including the James Leedom death. No charges have been filed in the fatal knifing of Leedom who died May 5 in City Hospital after suffering stab wounds on Monday, April 28.

Riley Hall Heads Young GOP Club

Jack Felt, Warren Cyders Named At Annual Election

New officers were elected at a meeting of the Marion County Young Republicans Club at Republican Headquarters Tuesday night.

Riley Hall, attorney, was elected president, Jack Felt secretary, and Warren Cyders was re-elected treasurer.

Remainder of the club's officers including three vice presidents and four members of the executive committee will be elected at the next regular meeting.

Hugh Wait and Hugh Kirkwood, formerly of Marion, spoke to club members of the state convention of Young Republican Clubs in Columbus June 13-14-15. Both are attached to the attorney general's office in Columbus and are active in club work.

The Marion club will be entitled to eight delegates at the convention. Delegates will be named by President Hall and announced at the next meeting of the club.

Plans were made for the club's annual membership drive to start later this month. It was announced that a change in the constitution of the clubs now allows persons up to the age of 40 to be active members. The former maximum age was 35. Both city and county Republicans are eligible to join the club, spokesmen said.

To Answer Questions On Naturalization

A federal naturalization examiner will be in Marion Friday to receive petitions for naturalization, Clerk of Courts Calvin Oborn announced today.

The examiner, from the Columbus office of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, will be in the clerk of courts office after 9 a.m. to answer any questions on naturalization.

Two Injuries, Two Arrests In Traffic List

Five Accidents Reported By Marion Police

Two persons were injured and two others were arrested on charges of traffic violations in connection with five traffic accidents, city police reported today.

Leon Buchanan, 37, of 335½ S. State St. suffered a nose injury in a three-car collision on E. Center St. at Reed Ave. at 5:05 p.m. Tuesday. He was driven to City Hospital where his condition today was reported as "good."

He was a passenger in a car driven by William E. Kenyon, 40, of Wood St. Other drivers involved in the collision were Joseph B. Reams, 42, of Cincinnati and Charles K. Clark, 29, of 450 N. Main St.

Clark was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was held for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Hand Injured

Winford Bush, 22, of Lexington, N. Y., suffered cuts on his left hand when the motorcycle he was riding and a car driven by Mrs. Mary M. New of 239 Blaine Ave. collided at the intersection of W. Center and Main Sts. Police said the injury was minor and Bush proceeded on his way to an Army base in Indiana.

An 86-year-old driver was arrested on a charge of driving with insufficient brakes in connection with an accident at the intersection of Holmes Pl. and Union St. William Smith of 928 N. Barnhart St. was arrested after his car and one driven by Robert Eigene Hypes, 21, of 318 Park St. collided at 4:02 p.m. Tuesday. Smith posted $35 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court today. The left front of the Smith car was damaged and the left rear of the Hypes car.

A Red Cab Co. taxi driven by Elwood Stone, of 128 St. Clair St. and a car driven by Elmer O. Wines, 43, of Flat Rock, Mich. collided in front of 255 S. Main St. at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday. Damage was minor.

Hit-Skip Accident

A car owned by Stanley Bash of near Marion was damaged when struck by a hit-skip car Tuesday morning. The Bash car was parked on N. Main St. at Farming St. The left rear was damaged.

Kenneth Eugene Rutledge, 19, of 775½ Bennett St. was arrested on a charge of speeding on E. Center St. at 7:24 a.m. Wednesday. His car was held for his appearance in Municipal Court today.

Carl Frederick Parks, 19, of 379 Park Blvd, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving on W. Center St. at 8:25 p.m. Tuesday. He was released and scheduled to appear in Municipal Court today.

and gas shortages as far away as Great Britain, where the U.S. Third Air Force cancelled all but essential flights. The Petroleum Administratoin for Defense (PAD) prepared to name petroleum supply directors in 15 states most seriously affected.

Secretary of the Interior Chapman Tuesday set up the framework of the organization, designed to "direct petroleum to essential uses in the interest of national defense and maintenance of a sound civilian economy."

Chapman's order said there is a major dislocation in many areas.

The strike has cut off slightly more than one-third of the country's oil production. It has brought a work-halt in oil fields, pipe lines and refineries.

U.S.' Newest, Biggest Liner On Trial Run

ABOARD THE S.S. UNITED STATES (AP)— America's newest and biggest transocean liner headed for sea today to test her sea-legs in a two day builder's trial run.

Powerful tugs, dwarfed by the 61,500-ton United States, nudged the ship from her berth at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company shortly at 9 a.m. (EST).

Perkins Festival Opens Thursday

Noted Astronomers To Meet at OWU

DELAWARE—Some of the nation's foremost astronomers will take part in the annual Perkins Astronomical Festival, beginning Thursday under sponsorship of Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State Universities.

The three-day event will take place on the Ohio State campus and at Perkins Observatory, near Delaware. The observatory, with its 60-inch reflecting telescope, fourth largest in the United States, is operated jointly by the two universities.

The seventh annual McMillin Observatory Lecture will open the Festival at 8 p.m. Thursday in the auditorium of the Physics Building on the Ohio State campus.

Dr. Lyman Spitzer, director of the Princeton University Observatory, will be the speaker. His topic will be "Whence the Stars?"

The lecture will be non-technical in nature, and will be open to the public without admission charge. Dr. Harold Nielson, chairman of Ohio State's department of physics and astronomy, will preside.

An invitational dinner will be given by Dr. Arthur S. Flemming and Dr. Howard L. Bevis, presidents of Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State, Friday evening at Perkins Observatory for some 40 guests. Dr. Flemming will preside at the dinner, and a panel of astronomers will discuss "Decoding Signals from Space."

Industrial Panel Heard By Rotarians

"Employer-Employe Relations" Is Topic Of Discussion

A panel discussion, "Employer-Employe Relations," was the program for Tuesday's weekly luncheon meeting of the Marion Rotary Club at Hotel Harding. Members of the panel were Ben T. Wiant, vice president and secretary of the Osgood Co., Ralph Howard, assistant to the president of the Huber Mfg. Co., and Joseph L. Bearden, local plant manager for the B.F. Goodrich Co. Moderator was Russell Butterworth, superintendent of distribution for the Ohio Edison Co. The program was planned by the club's vocational service committee, headed by Clayborn Smoot.

The first topic, "Development and Growth of Business," was discussed by Mr. Wiant. He emphasized that all businesses start with an idea and "are like an inverted pyramid." If the business is small the problems are few, and as production increases so do the problems.

Mr. Howard spoke on "Employe-Management, Definition and Scope" and emphasized that labor and management must go hand in hand.

In his talk on "Employer's Responsibilities To The Employe," Mr. Bearden explained state and safety regulations. Mr. Howard expressed his opinions on "Company Policies-Informing the Employe" and Mr. Wiant spoke about "Fringe Benefits to Employes." Mr. Butterworth briefly covered the importance of "The Training of Workers" and "The Training of Supervisors."

During the discussion, Mr. Butterworth emphasized that employer-employe relations are important to all economic affairs, including those of merchants and professional men. He concluded that the application of the Golden Rule should solve labor-management problems satisfactorily.

Guests at the meeting, introduced by Wilson Tway, included J. C. Jarvis of Princeton, Ind., and Ross A. Winter of Upper Sandusky, visiting Rotarians, Lloyd A. Wilson of San Francisco, Calif., Roger Strachan of Butler, Pa., Cecil Boling of West Hartford, Conn., J. S. Harmon of Cadiz, O., Robert J. Harmon of Pleasant City, O., A. C. Robbins of Columbus, Charles T. Vogelsong of Toronto, O., R. M. Carberry of Vandalia, O., Robert J. Alcorn of Upper Sandusky, and John Willetton, M. V. Lashey and Ernest L. Davis, of Marion.

Maureen Smalley was the student reporter from the Harding High School journalism classes.

be a police action because other countries had joined with us in resisting Communist aggression in Korea, but he said that didn't lessen the urgent need for steel.

Perlman repeated his argument of the day before that the President, in using the Wage Stabilization Board to handle the dispute between the steel companies and the CIO Steelworkers, had chosen "an alternative method" to the Taft-Hartley Act.

Arthur Goldberg, general Counsel of the Steelworkers, who entered the case as "a friend of the court", supported Perlman on the non-use of the Taft-Hartley Act. That act, he said, provides for an 80-day cooling-off period for bargaining. Truman's requests to the union not to strike, Goldberg said, resulted in a cooling off period of 90 days.

Testimony By Gross Costs Cop Pension

NEW YORK (AP)—Boss bookie Harry Gross' testimony of graft payments had the support today of Police Commissioner George P. Monaghan, who fired a lieutenant hours before his retirement.

The commissioner said he was "convinced that the testimony of Gross is not a recent fabrication" as he outsed Lt. Thomas J. Evans, a 21-year veteran on the force.

Evans, who sought to retire at midnight last night, was accused of sharing in a million dollars a year bribes Gross says he paid police to protect his reputed 20-million-dollar-a-year bookie business.

Monaghan fired the 44-year-old Evans Tuesday just eight hours before the retirement would have been effective. As a result, Evans loses a $2,575-a-year pension.

Daniel Jacobson, attorney for Evans, said Tuesday night he planned to ask the appellate division of the State Supreme Court to review the case.

Jacobson said a court of law would reverse Monaghan. The attorney added that "the unsupported testimony of a professed violator of the law against the testimony of a police officer with an unblemished record should not be taken even in a departmental trial."

Missing Columbus Woman Found In Farm Hog Shelter

WILMINGTON, O. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Floyd Foote reported today that a Columbus woman, missing since May 6, had been found living in a hog shelter on a farm east of Wilmington.

He said she is suffering from exposure, hunger and illness.

The farm owner discovered the woman after feeding the hogs pastured in the field where the shelter is located, Foote reported.

She was taken to the Clinton County infirmary and treated and then returned to Columbus by relatives.

Her car was found abandoned on Route 72, east of here, last Friday.

Auto Dealers Dinner Held

The Marion County Automobile Dealers Association met Monday night at Hotel Harding for a dinner.

William White and Fred Wile of Columbus, both with the Office of Price Stabilization, spoke on labor service sales.

It was announced that a majority of the county dealers are planning to remain open on Saturday May 31, and Saturday, July 4, because of the preceding Fridays being holidays.

A report was made on uncensed auto dealers in Marion now being investigated by the Ohio Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

Party Committees To Be Reorganized

Democratic precinct committeemen will meet tonight and Republican committeemen will get together next Tuesday night to reorganize central and executive committees.

All committemen were elected in the recent primary election.

Democrats will meet at 8:30 tonight at Democrtaic headquarters. The GOP meeting is set for next Tuesday at Republican headquarters.

Ohio Edison Employes Get Awards

Presentation Made To 50 at Dinner For Marion Group

Gold watches and pins were presented Tuesday night to five employes of Ohio Edison Company by H. J. Grigsby, division manager, in recognition of their 25 years with the utility. Pins were also awarded to 45 employes whose service records ranged from five to 40 years.

The 50 employes were honored at Edison's second annual award dinner held at the Hotel Harding. Under this recognition program, each Edison employe who has completed 25 years with the company receives a pin and gold watch. Recognition pins are awarded to those who have served 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, or 40 years.

Employes who received a gold watch for 25 years of service were Robert V. Yazel, Charles T. Lusk, Milton M. Giles, John W. Roke, and Charles E. Knachel.

40-Year Award

The 40-year pin was presented to Charles H. Ladd.

Veterans of 30 years are Harold J. Grigsby, Harold E. Foster, Lester L. Garver, William A. Wylie, and Robert L. Everett.

Twenty-year pins went to Virginia A. Wilson, Lawrence M. Yinger, and Woodrow J. Frost.

Awarded for their 15 years of service were Gerald L. Seckel, James D. Smith, Russell E. Rhinehart, Irvin Olen Roszman, Bernard L. Brown, Milton M. Seitter, Harry D. Cahill, and Lloyd Lance.

Receiving 10-year pins were R. Paul Brown, David Meyers, Paul F. Roberts, Millard D. Sims, Clarence D. Kirk, Louis L. Kull, Lawrence L. Buckley, W. Dean Craver, and David A. McNeal.

Recognized for five-years of service were Vachel B. Collier, Arthur L. Schurch, Wilbur D. Barry, Harold E. Lloyd, Charles A. Shuck, Raymond W. Wood, Lawrence E. Mull, Thomas J. Mayer, George F. Schwab, Paul R. Smiley, William F. Glimpse, Lester E. Stewart, Donald E. Chapman, Henry W. Tewalt, L. Jeanne Sand, N. Joel Moran, James E. Ekey, Roy P. Shipton, and Alfred J. Bixler.

J. A. Strozier of Akron, vice president and director of Ohio Edison Company, was in attendance at the meeting accompanied by Mrs. Strozier and in addition there were also present from the Akron office Messrs. Andrew Carnegie, in charge of production and transmission, Charles Bowden, general superintendent of power-production, E. A. Ladd, general auditor, N. J. Roberts, general supervisor of wholesale sales and Paul M. Gentzel, safety coordinator.

Manufacturers Plan Dinner

Plans were completed for the annual dinner of the Manufacturers Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce when the council met Monday noon at Hotel Harding.

The dinner has been scheduled for Friday, June 13, at the Marion Country Club.

Reports were given on the city-wide meeting for discussion of the United Appeals Drive held in April.

It was announced that S. H. Parker of Columbus, assistant to the president of the Ohio Highway and Turnpike Association, has been invited to speak to the council on June 8.

Local plant operations were reported good with no serious shortages and production normal.

GETS JAIL SENTENCE

DELAWARE, O. (INS)—Joseph E. Bridges, 20, of Columbus was sentenced to 60 days in Delaware County Jail and his driver's license suspended for five years Tuesday for second degree manslaughter in the traffic death of Hosea Wooden, 21, of Columbus on Route 23 near Delaware on Jan. 18.

State To Survey Traffic in City

Arrangements are nearly completed for a state traffic survey of the city of Marion, Mayor Harold F. Robinson announced today. It will be paid by state funds, he said.

Purpose of the survey is to determine if more traffic lights are needed, if the present ones are operating efficiently, and to study generally the Marion traffic problem.

Galion Woman Awarded $1,520 in Claims Suit

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—A Crawford County Common Pleas Court jury Saturday returned a verdict for $1,520, plus $69 in interest, in favor of Elizabeth Feight of Galion, and against Harry B. Coon, administrator of the estate of Eva L. Berry, late of Galion. The verdict was unanimous and was reached after 45 minutes' deliberation.

The plaintiff sought $1,520 for services she performed for Mrs. Berry from January, 1949, until June, 1950. Mrs. Berry died July 17, 1950 at the age of 84. The plaintiff claimed she did housework, cleaning and cooking for Mrs. Berry and the latter had promised to compensate her for her services. She also claimed she purchased food and prepared it for Mrs. Berry for 466 days and gave her daily nursing care for 325 days. The plaintiff's petition stated that the administrator refused to allow her claim for services.

CHANCELLOR ARRIVES. Doctor Leopold Figl, Chancellor of Austria, is pictured as he talked to reporters shortly after he arrived at Idlewild Airport, N. Y. In the United States on a good-will tour, Dr. Figl said there's little or no chance of Communism developing in Austria.

Park Development Planned at Carey

Special to The Star

CAREY — An organizational meeting was held recently by the Memorial Park Development committee. The purpose of the committee and the community benefits were discussed and acted upon.

F. D. Jackson was elected permanent general chairman. Other officers include: vice chairman, George Jaster; secretary, Joe Newhard, and treasurer, Tom Hilty. The group will be known as the executive committee of the Park Development committee and will be composed of one member from each organization in the Carey community. As a basic plan, they are using the six projects that were proposed by the park board as a goal to be reached. These included a new shelter house, 24 by 36 feet; another shelter house, 16 by 24 feet; a 24 by 36 foot machine shed and a water well at the ball diamond. A tennis court and permanent net are to be donated and a four-way fireplace with shelter combined is being planned by the JayCees and JayCeeJays.

The organizations and the persons who represented them at this first meeting were: Carey Conservation League, Robert J. Kessler; Carey WCTU and Fortnightly Club, Mrs. S. R. Bame; Memorial Park Board, Clyde Jenkins; Fire Department, Robert Draper and Tony Fabiani; Our Lady of Consolation Church, Rev. Theodore Eickholtz, OFMConv.; Carey Ministerial Association, Rev. D. V. Whitenack; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Edward Bakies; Girl Scouts, Mrs. Harold Shiley; Farmer's Community Club, Wesley Wonder; American Legion, Harry Shull; Carey Businessmen's Association, George Jaster; Carey Kiwanis Club, Tom Hilty; Carey Junior Chamber of Commerce, Joe Newhard, and the general chairman of the Park Development committee, F. D. Jackson.

The community-wide promotion which was decided upon by the committee is a two-part program. First will be a $5,000 community raffle with many worth-while prizes. This will be concluded with a three-day Carey Community Homecoming celebration which will wind up with a fireworks display, all of which is to be held in Carey Memorial Park.

Mrs. Hutchman Wins Grange Cookie Contest

Winner in a cookie contest held at a recent meeting of Grand Prairie Grange was Mrs. William Hutchman. Serving as judge for the event, which was conducted by the home economics committee was Mrs. Mark Baker.

Howard Hinamon master, presided for the meeting during which it was voted to begin meetings at 8:30 p.m and dispense with refreshments during the summer months. An announcement was made of the county memorial service to be held Sunday, June 15, at 8 p.m. at Grand Prairie.

The program, in keeping with Mother's Day, included a poem, "Our Mother," read by Mrs. Roy Holdridge; a poem, "Bugle Call To Mothers," by Emelie Pride; piano solo by Eddie Hutchman; a pantomime, "Mothers and Daughters of the Bible," by girls of the Juvenile Grange, Jean Lyon, Nancy Ackley, Mary Kay Hinamon, Marjorie Lucas, Sue Ann Bibler, Margaret Ann Hinamon and Emelie Pride, with Helen Lyon as narrator; a vocal solo, "Mother Machree," by Marjorie Lucas, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Verne Lucas; and short talks by Mr. and Mrs. Thew, who recently returned to Ohio after spending the winter in Florida.

Statistics compiled by the Census Bureau in 1951 show 1,500,000 more females than males in the United States.

Which Do You Fear Most, A Fire or a Flood?

If you were living along the banks of the Missouri River we know what your answer would be. The recent floods in seven states wiped out tens of millions of dollars worth of property. But look at these figures. In 1949, total fire losses in the United States amounted to $688,460,000. Some fires were small, just a few dollars of damage, and others ran into the millions.

Fire insurance for all of your possessions is the least expensive, and one of the most important things in your daily life. If you haven't recently checked your own policies, do so and consult us immediately. Our advice and counsel cost nothing.

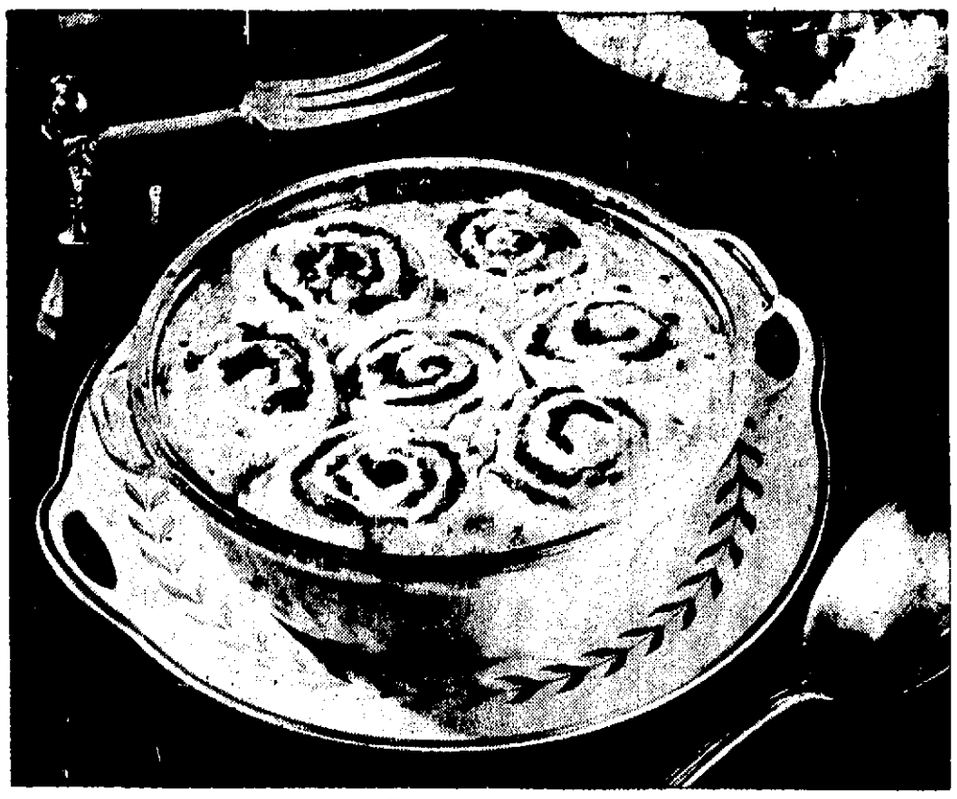
Chicken Pinwheel Pie Rates With Favorites



Chicken aplenty, that's the story from government market reports; this pie is one of the delicious ways of serving it. Everyone will go for this dish in a big way—chicken with lots of sauce, a good, rich crust, make it an interesting new favorite.

CHICKEN PINWHEEL PIE

- 3 T butter or margarine
- 4 T enriched flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup chicken stock (or bouillon)
- 1 t salt
- ⅛ t cayenne pepper
- 1 T lemon juice
- 1 T minced onion
- 3 cups diced, cooked chicken

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Add milk gradually stirring constantly. Stir in chicken stock or bouillon, salt, cayenne pepper, lemon juice and onion. Bring to a boil over moderate heat, stiring constantly with wooden spoon. Stir in diced, cooked chicken.

Pour mixture into 2-quart casserole and top with following pinwheels.

Pinwheel Crust: Sift together 2 cups enriched flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in ¼ cup butter or margarine with two knives or pastry blender until it is size of small peas. Add ¾ cup milk gradually to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead lightly about ½ minute.

Roll out into a rectagle 14 by 8 by ¼-inch. Cover surface of dough with ½ cup chopped pimiento and ¾ cup grated sharp cheese. Sprinkle with teaspoon of paprika. Roll up dough as for jelly roll. Cut in slices about 1½ inches thick. Place over chicken mixture, cut side up and bake in a hot oven (425 F.) 35 minutes or until pinwheels are golden brown. Serves 6.

Beech

A Mother's Day program was held Sunday at the Salem EUB Church. Gifts were given to Mrs. Clara Myers for the oldest mother present, to Mrs. Dewey Oldfield, Jr. being the youngest mother present and to Mrs. Harold Linscott, mother of the largest number of children present. Gift booklets were given to each mother present. The program included: devotionals by Mrs. Minerva Klinefelter and prayer by Mrs. C. W. McChesney and Paul McChesney. Vocal solo by Doris Denzer accompanied by Margaret Howser. Reading, "Mothers," was given by Mrs. Loren Hord. Sermon, "The meaning of Mothers," was given by pastor Rev. A. E. Clark.

Green Camp

Mr. and Mrs. Zell Owen entertained members of the Methodist Golden Rule Class at their May meeting at the church. Devotions were led by Mrs. Ruth Ann Lyon. Mrs. Lyon was named as the class representative to meet with others and the church officials to decide what should be done with an empty lot at the rear of the church. The class suggested part of it as a parking area, the remainder to be fixed into a recreation center with outdoor furnaces and shuffle board courts. Mrs. Marilyn Rasey led contests. Awards went to Walter Rinehart, Mrs. Lois Flach and Mrs. Ruth Ann Lyon.

Sycamore

The May meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Thursday. Contributions were made to the cancer fund, to the Junior baseball team sponsored by the Legion post, and to a fund for purchasing a gift for the retiring district president.

Mrs. Mary Britton was named chairman of the poppy sales on poppy day May 21. Karis Riedel, Leta Hartschuh and Helen Coffman will arrange the poppy window. The committee for the Decoration Day program is Mary Jane Adams, Dora Roby and Margaret Hufford.

The E & R Guild met at the church Wednesday when reports were given by Betty Bacon and Sylvia Sneeringer about the regional guild at Kenton recently. Mrs. Sneeringer presented the program assisted by Helen Hart, Ilah Ohl, Inez Sneeringer, Mae Frankenfield and Ruth Case.

—:—

The Sycamore Garden Club at their meeting Wednesday planned for the spring flower show to be held by the club early in June. Another flower festival is being planned for the early autumn when the public will be invited to share in the display. Mrs. Rufus Kurtz told of the gardens she had seen during the past winter in Florida and Mrs. Walter Williams told of her visit to the Toledo flower show. The local flower gardens were visited after the meeting.

—:—

Mrs. Merle Hufford entertained Wednesday honoring Miss Phyllis Fry of Tiffin who on May 25 will become the bride of Ned Barton Hufford of Sycamore.

Upper Sandusky

Mrs. H. L. Wenner was assisted by Mrs. Elnora Ulrich and Mrs. Darris Boucher for the May meeting of the Ladies' Society of First Lutheran Church of Upper Sandusky. Mrs. R. H. Flock was in charge of the business meeting. The leaders for hte devotional period were Mrs. Jacob Klein and Mrs. Dave Maffet.

Bucyrus

Officers were elected Thursday by the Order of Rainbow for Girls with Rebecca Brooks, Bucyrus High School senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brooks, succeeding Pat Gary as worthy advisor. Miss Gary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Gary of North Robinson. Other officers are: worthy associate advisor, Marilyn Boyd; Charity, Beverly LaRue; Hope, Beverly Neff, and Faith, Jo Ann Mutchler. The officers will be installed May 22.

Some Members of Plane Crews

WAF Is Permanent Branch of Air Force

(Fourth of five articles on women in military services)

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The WAFs (Women in the Air Force) light their birthday candles along with the men in that service. They've been a part of the U. S. Air Force since it was separated from the Army in 1948. They're even called "airmen."

Their predecessors were WACs, 40 per cent of whom served with the old Army Air Forces, performing duties ranging from those of clerks and typists to those of aircraft mechanics and cryptographers. Some Air WACs were members of plane crews on non-combat flights. One was awarded the Air Medal in India for photographic work in mapping the mountains of the "Hump."

First director of the WAF after it was established June 14, 1948, was Col. Geraldine P. May, who had enlisted in the original Women's Army Auxiliary Corps in 1942. She graduated with the first WAAC officer candidate class at Fort Des Moines, Ia. A second lieutenant, she was one of the first 18 WAC officers assigned to the Army Air Force and for a time served as staff director for the Air Transport Command. Upon her resignation last June, Col. May was succeeded by Col. Mary Jo Shelley, who is on leave from Bennington College, Vermont, where she has been educational assistant to the president.

By mid-1944 WAC "squadrons" were working for the Army Air Forces all over the world. In June 1948 the Women's Armed Services Integration Act established them as a permanent part of the new U. S. Air Force. By mid - October that year women were being recruited directly into the Air Force and were reporting for basic training at the Lackland Air Force Base in Texas. The following year WAFs were admitted on a co-ed basis to the

WAF

Air Force Officer Candidate School, also at Lackland.

None of these women is allowed to fly for the Air Force, although many are licensed pilots. The WASPs, who in early World War II days ferried planes for the Army Air Force, were civilians. Congress decided not to give them military status when it found there were enough male pilots.

Approximately 10,000 WAFs were on active duty when intensive recruitment began last fall.

WAFs are now on duty at key air bases—not only in the continental United States but in Germany, Japan, England, Italy, France, Hawaii, Okinawa and Guam. They are also serving in Panama, Newfoundland and Alaska.

Richland Twp. Couple To Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Ruehrmund of Richland Township, married 50 years ago Thursday, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with open house for relatives and friends from 2 p.m. until 5. They live on the farm where Mr. Ruehrmund was born and where they went to housekeeping a half century ago.

The wedding ceremony of May 15, 1902, was read in the home of the Rev. Charles W. Voss, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church at Windfall. A daughter of Albert and Catherine Fairchild, the bride was Miss Mary Fairchild. Parents of her husband were William and Elizabeth Ruehrmund. Mrs. Ruehrmund is 69. Her birthdate was Oct. 30, 1882. Mr. Ruehrmund, 71, was born Aug 29, 1880.

Two adopted daughters of the couple are Mrs. Grace Radel and Mrs. Mary Belle Ernst, both of near Marion. Mrs. Ruehrmund has two brothers and a sister living.

WOMEN'S GROUP MEETS

For a meeting of Marion Review 231, Women's Benefit Association, Wednesday Mrs. Dell Hogan was hostess in her home at 341 Olney Ave., and Mrs. Hazel Rech was assistant. Mrs. Clara Price was a guest. A poem was read by Mrs. Helen Stayner. June 4, a memorial service for deceased members will be held at the home of Mrs. Hazel Thomasson of 238 Olney Ave.

Pantomime Presented By Greenwood WSWS

Mrs. Raymond Donaugh was in charge of the program when the WSWS of Greenwood EUB Church met Thursday night at the parish house.

The program, entitled "Christ Calls Through Our Homes," was done in pantomime with Mrs. C. A. Thomas as reader. Taking part were Mrs. Robert Gorenflo and daughter, Mrs. Melbourne Donaugh and son, Mrs. Richard Bender and son, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Strine and daughter, Mrs. Wilson Ishida and children, Mrs. Stanley Thomas and daughters, Mrs. Franklin Gorenflo and daughter, Mrs. Maurice Matteson and the Rev. R. T. Sutherland.

Mrs. Leland Ervin, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Stair, presented selections between the scenes.

Final plans were made to send delegates to the branch meeting at St. Marys, June 11 through 13. Mrs. LeRoy Hanning reported 75 pounds of clothing had been sent to missionaries in Germantown, South Africa.

Rates High in Membership, Program Goals

Harding Area Boy Scout Council Among Top Groups in Region Four

Harding Area Boy Scout Council ranks among the top of the 43-Council Region Four which includes Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia, it was reported to the Council Executive Board Thursday night at the annual Council Charter Review at Camp Owens.

The honor was received as a result of membership and program goals established in Scouting's new three-year program set up last January.

Highlights of the past year's program were reviewed by chairmen of each operating committee and plans for achieving year-end goals were discussed. Charts showing position of the Council in each field of operation were prepared by the Council Executive Staff and presented by Scout Executive C. G. Wheeldon.

Reporting for the organization and extension committee, Max Smith, chairman, pointed out that Scout membership in the Council is at an all-time high with more than 1,600 boys currently enrolled, an increase of 20 per cent over the past year. This places the Harding Council at the top in Region IV in percentage and membership growth. Seven new units have been organized so far this year and none have been dropped.

Good Camp Record

Dr. A. J. Wagner, chairman of the Camping and Activities Committee, reported 56 per cent of eligible Scouts attended long term camp last year; and plans are underway for an equal number this year. Summer camp opens at Camp Owens for a four-week period July 6. The Annual Council Camporee is scheduled for the week-end starting Friday, May 16, with more than 300 Scouts and leaders enrolled. Harold Carroll is this year's Camporee chief.

Chairman J. H. Walker of the Leadership Training Committee, said that 16 per cent of Cubmasters, 47 per cent of Scoutmasters, and 50 per cent of Explorer Advisors in the Council have completed Basic Leader Training. His committee's goal for the year is 50 per cent of all leaders trained. Nice progress has been shown into Scouting. The training committee will meet May 14 to develop schedule of training activities for the year.

Howard Zeigler of the Advancement Committee told the group that although the Council Advancement record shows some improvement over a year ago, there are only 48 per cent of the units having reported Boards of Review for their Scouts. He said, "Our record in advancement is poor simply because adult Scouters don't give boys an opportunity to advance." He outlined a plan for his committee to visit, by teams, each unit not showing advancement and assist in setting up advancement procedures.

Budget Reviewed

The current year's budget is $28,615, an eight per cent increase over last year, according to report by Chairman W. H. Goodwin. Three Community Chests (Marion County, Bucyrus, and Carey) supply $18,785 of the budget. The balance is raised by other means including independent Scout campaigns in non-chest areas. Henry A. Krigbaum is campaign chairman of this year's drive which has, for the first time been conducted as a Council-wide campaign.

Commissioner Karl Bechtle told the board the Council now has a total of 22 commissioners: 14 in Marion and four each in the North and Morrow Districts. Thirty-two would constitute a full staff. Monthly round-tables are being held in each district under direction of the commissioner staff. A training course for new commissioners is scheduled to begin immediately.

Richard A. Mellen, deputy regional executive from the Cincinnati office, assisted in the review procedure and closed the meeting with some changing facts on Scouting within the Council and throughout the region.

President Gray announced that all operating committees will meet in May and June and develop their yearly programs. On June 24 these programs will be presented in a Council Program Planning Conference at camp.

The annual meeting of the National Council will be held in New York May 23-25. Dr. Gray said 12 registrations have been sent in from this Council for the meeting. Dr. Gray and Dr. D. D. Bibler will attend as Harding Council representatives. Dr. Wagner will represent the Council on the National Committee of Catholic Scouting. Others registered for the meeting are Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. Gray and daughters, Mary and Anna K., Mrs. Bibler and sons, Ned and Darrell, Scout Executive and Mrs. C. G. Wheeldon.

WANTS TO BE GENERAL. Under full pack and carrying a practice rifle, John Arzoomian, 13, of New York City, leaves Children's Detention Center in Washington, D. C., his hope of becoming a general squelched. The boy came to Washington to camp out on the Pentagon lawn to see how generals operate, but was taken into custody at the bus station and held for pickup by his father.

Beech WSCS Plans Meeting at Church

Special to The Star

BEECH—The Woman's Society World Service and the Youth Fellowship of the Rural Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church will be in charge of the services May 20 at 8 p.m. Rev. G. R. MARION'S DIAL SYSTEM NOW 20% BIGGER

New $156,000 Addition to Marion's Dial Equipment Aids Local and Toll Service

BEFORE

5100 "lines" of dial equipment operated at near capacity during busy period.

TODAY

The new installation of 1020 more dial "lines" in Marion provides a reserve for 'peak" usage and central office facilities for new telephones.

Your local and long distance calls now zip through a much bigger dial system. The recent addition of 1020 new lines of dial switching apparatus assures fast completion of calls at all times.

This $156,000 service improvement also makes available the central office facilities for all new telephone service applications in the immediate future, although more cable is still required to serve some sections.

Marion's system handled 19,600,000 local calls last year. That is an average of 575 calls a year for every man, woman and child in the city!

Gardner Club Hostess To District Event

100 Women From 21 Clubs in Ohio Attend Meeting

Members of the Jessie A. Gardner Federated Club were hostesses to more than 100 members of clubs in the Southeast District of the Ohio Association of Colored Women at a one-day meeting Saturday. Twenty-one clubs were represented from Columbus, Delaware, Newark, Chillicothe, Zanesville, Mt. Vernon, and other cities in the district. Business sessions were held at the YMCA and at noon a dinner was served at the club home on Harrison St.

The afternoon business session included the election of officers Mrs. Rose Nichols of Marion was elected parliamentarian. The awarding of the district scholarship at the state meeting to be held at Central State College at Wilberforce, O., in June was discussed. Mrs. Jessie A. Gardner of Delaware was nominated by the group for the office of state president. A talk was given by Mrs. Dorthea Gross of Cincinnati, state president.

Following the business session a program was presented. The Rev. Elder Cash of Marion was a guest speaker. Miss Delores Cosey played an instrumental solo and a trio composed of Miss Carol Jefferier, Miss Edith Johnson and Miss Cosey sang "The Lord's Prayer." A skit was presented by Mrs. Gertrude Hill and the meeting closed with a talk by Mrs. Jessie A. Gardner of Delaware, in whose honor the local club was named.

Representing the local club at the meeting were Mrs. Ethel Wilson and Mrs. Beatrice Stevenson. Registration was in charge of Mrs. Marguerite Beverly and Mrs. Helen West and the arts and crafts were in charge of Mrs. Vera Stevenson and Mrs. Mary Canada. Serving as a food committee for the dinner were Mrs Gertrude Ross and Mrs. Sarann West, and the chef, Massie Ross. Serving were junior girls, Misses Carol Jefferies and Roberta Russell.

In Loving Memory

Of our dear mother, Mrs Mary Elizabeth Gaskins, whom God called to rest two years ago, May 14, 1942

Somewhere back of the sunset,
Where loveliness never dies,
Mother dwells in a land of glory,
Near God and the blue skies
It's the things she used to do,
The things she used to say,
That makes her absence from our home,
Felt more and more each day.
Her memory is our keepsake,
With that we shall never part,
God has her in His keeping
But we have her in our hearts.
Looking back with tenderness,
Along the path we trod,
We bless the years we had with her
And leave the rest to God.
But some day we hope to meet her,
When our days, too, are o'er,
On that Beautiful Isle of Somewhere
Where sorrow is no more dispute with the steel industry" wrote the delegates "stand united in their determination to win a just and fair settlement"

SIDES WITH STEELWORKERS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin told cheering CIO Steelworkers today that he stands "heart and soul and spirit" behind them in their fight for a wage increase. Tobin, in addressing the convention of the United Steelworkers Union said flatly: "The only way to settle the steel dispute . . . is through the acceptance of the recommendations of the Wage Stabilization Board."

Y Camp For Girls To Be Explained

A special program has been arranged at the local YMCA to acquaint girl members of the Marion Y with facilities at Camp Pittenger, Tiffin Y camp.

The program will be held at the Y tonight. Camp Pittenger is the camp used by the Marion Y for its girls. Miss Lois Collette, woman's director at the camp, will attend the program. She will show movies and speak on various phases of camp life. She will be accompanied by some members of her camp staff last year. Marvin Ludwig, boys' work secretary of the Marion YMCA, has invited all interested girls 11 through 16 to attend the meeting along with their parents.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market successfully performed a delicate balancing act today in holding at virtual dead center in continued listless dealings.

At the end of the first hour the Dow-Jones industrial average was unchanged; the rails were up nine cents; and the utilities were down nine cents. The combined 65-stock price index was unchanged.

Wall Street brokers were reluctant to advice clients on day-to-day trading procedure until the Supreme Court handed down its ruling in the steel case. Since a decision was not expected until early next month, most market followers were prepared for a further extended period of inaction.

Among the trading favorites to edge into the plus column from time to time were U.S. Steel, General Electric, DuPont, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, and General Motors. Small losses were sustained by Anaconda, Republic Steel, Kennecott, Socony-Vacuum and National Distillers.

In the rails, Nickel Plate was up ⅜; Baltimore and Ohio up ⅛; Northern Pacific off ⅛; and New York Central unchanged.

Volume for the first hour expanded slightly to 200,000 shares.

Home Run Spree Jolts Pitchers In Major League Play

16 Four-Baggers Belted For Single Day High

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Warning to all major league pitchers: It's raining home runs!

The hurlers got an inkling of things to come Tuesday afternoon at Ebbets Field when five of their offerings were hammered for home runs as the Brooklyn Dodgers won a 14-8 slugging match from the St. Louis Cardinals. Gil Hodges and Pitcher Ben Wade homered for the Dodgers. Stan Musial hit two out of the park for the Cards and Larry Miggins hit one.

By midnight, 16 homers had been rapped in the eight games, the biggest single day output of the young season. Heretofore, the major league campaign had featured tight pitching duels with accent on shutouts and low-hit games.

Home runs by Ray Boone, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell gave the Cleveland Indians a 10-6 victory over the New York Yankees.

A trio of four-baggers helped the New York Giants defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 7-4, and maintain their one-game National League margin over the Dodgers Bobby Thomson cracked a homer with a man on base and followed with a bases-loaded double to account for five runs batted in. Bob Elliott and Willie Mays also homered for the Giants and Ted Kluszewski for the Reds.

Minoso Leads Attack

Minnie Minoso was the Chicago White Sox homer getter as they whipped the Boston Red Sox, 5-0. Minoso blasted a 415-foot homer and added a two-run single to drive in four runs and make it easy for Billy Pierce.

Eddie Mathews hit his seventh home run to lead the Boston Braves to a 3-1 verdict over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The four-bagger, off loser Howie Pollet, tied the rookie infielder for the league lead with Brooklyn's Andy Pafko.

Curt Simmons, only a month out of the service, pitched the Philadelphia Phils to a 6-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Simmons fanned 12 including the last four to face him. It is the highest strikeout total of the year. A leadoff home run by Granny Hamner in the first inning started the Philly scoring.

Bobby Shantz pitched and batted the Philadelphia Athletics to a 5-1 win over the St. Louis Browns. The little lefthander threw a five-hitter for his fifth triumph and highlighted two scoring innings with a double and triple.

Senators Win

Washington won its ninth game in its last 10 starts, as Connie Marrero hurled a five-hit 4-3 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

A feature of the Yankee-Indians game was the insertion of Mickey Mantle to third base for New York. Mantle, who broke into organized baseball as a shortstop three years ago, was converted into an outfielder by the Yankees with the hope that he would some day fill the shoes of Joe DiMaggio in center. Mantle committed two errors in four chances.

GOOD TRY. Larry Miggins, St. Louis Cardinals leftfielder, tries vainly to snag a two-base hit by Brooklyn Dodger centerfielder Duke Snider in the second inning of a Cards-Dodger game at Ebbets Field in Brooklyn. Snider's hit bounced off the leftfield wall, and is seen here just to the right of Miggins' glove. The Dodgers won 14 to 8.

Pirate Farm Hand Strikes Out 27 In Class D No-Hitter

BRISTOL, Tenn. (UP) — A pitcher's "dream game" — 27 strike-outs — has been fashioned by 20-year-old Ron Neccini, a pitcher with the Bristol Twins of the Class D Appalachian League.

Neccini's amazing feat, performed Tuesday night as he pitched a no-hitter to beat the Welch Miners, 7-0, is believed to be the first time in the history of organized baseball that a pitcher has recorded the maximum number of strike-outs for a nine-inning game.

Only two batters reached base against Neccini. He walked one and the other reached first when the catcher dropped a third strike.

Neccini, a Pittsburgh Pirate farm hand from Monongahela, Pa., is on option to the Twins from New Orleans of the Southern Association. He has been burning up the league with strike-outs, with 77 in 32 innings, and Tuesday's win was his second shutout. The previous Appalachian League record for strikeouts in a single game was 21.

Pitchers Steal Show In Y League With Three Shutouts

Three shutouts were recorded in the Commercial Softball League Tuesday night as the pitchers stole the show in all but one of the four completed games.

Dwight Wilcox of Bird-McGinnis blanked Carl's Auto Parts on two hits with a 6-0 performance. Bud England of Smitty's All-Stars duplicated the feat in his 5-0 whitewash of the West Town Merchants and Bud Thorpe completed the brace of two hit-shutouts with a 2-0 hurling gem against the K &W Plumbers.

Wilcox's job was done at McKinley Park where Bird-McGinnis rolled to their second win of the 1952 campaign. Encouraged by the eight hits his mates were able to collect and a two-run bulge netted in the first frame, Wilcox faced only 25 batters over the seven-inning stint.

Smitty's All-Stars pounded out 13 hits in their 5-0 victory over the West Town Merchants as only Thacker and Hartley were able to reach the slants of Bud England for base hits. The Merchants protested the game in the fifth inning on a substitution technicality. Protests of this nature are handled by the three man protest committee of the Marion Recreational Softball Commission.

Bud Thorpe of GI Post blanked K & W by a 2-0 score in the finale at Garfield Park. Ring and Koeppan spoiled Thorpe's bid for the first no-hitter of the season with hits in the third and sixth innings. Koeppan's blow was a triple into left center. GI Post tallied in two runs in the fifth frame on two hits, a base on balls and a fielders' choice.

The UAW-CIO Union team of Marion Industries rushed off to a big four-run first inning but blew their impressive margin to the Marion A. C., losing by a 7-6 score. The A. C's picked up a single run in their half of the first inning and then added four in the third as John Smith cleared the bags with a triple to centerfield. After adding two in the sixth the UAW crew failed in their half of the final inning to tie up the game as Bob Fax was left in scoring position after doubling A. O. Garverick home after Garverick had been hit with a pitched ball.

Denies IBC Has Monopoly, Praises Policy

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Christenberry, the head copper of the fight industry in New York state, is calling the International Boxing Club on the carpet next month to show cause why its license should not be revoked as a monopoly which strangles private enterprise.

There is a suspicion that the new commissioner might have been shoved from behind the scenes by state interests which deplore the loss of revenue caused by the cartel's policy of throwing some of its business to Chicago, Detroit and other cities. There have been anguished cries that the IBC has reduced Madison Square Garden to a second run house.

In a sort of pre-trial hearing, Harry Markson, managing director of the ring colossus, was asked if he and his associates, including President Jim Norris, will have anything to say for themselves before sentence is passed. When Markson finally was hauled off the stand after some 40 minutes, it was evident that the IBC means to answer back. Our witness said, in part:

"IT IS MY HONEST conviction that the boxing game at this time is in the best hands it ever has been. It is fortunate to have such a man as Jim Morris, a man who, the last time I heard, was worth a great many million. He isn't in boxing to milk the game, as some promoters you and I have known were. He doesn't want to lose money, of course. But he is in boxing because he loves it.

"Sure we have exclusive contracts with fighters. So does the Metropolitan Opera Company have contracts, and the movie companies and the baseball clubs. Our contracts run three years, and all we ask is that they fight for us twice a year. Except in the case of heavyweight champions, this doesn't mean that they can't fight for other promoters. In fact, we give them permission to do so all the time, and we receive either a pittance or nothing at all. Of course, if Kid Gavilan, the welterweight champion, is going to fight a top challenger like Gil Turner, we want him to fight for us. What's wrong with that?

"I'LL SHOW YOU how such a contract can benefit a fighter. Not long ago Bob Murphy was fighting around Los Angeles and starving to death. Al Weill, our matchmaker, saw him and convinced us he would go good in the East, even if he was a southpaw. He wound up fighting Joey Maxim for the lightheavy title. He had a lot of other good money fights, some for us, some for other promoters. He filled the house for one fight in Boston and we cut in for less than $200. Bob's been out for nearly a year, but now he's coming back again. Would you say we hampered his career?

"As for our sending fights out of town, I asked Christenberry to name me two in the past year that he felt should have been held here. Ray Robinson-Rocky Graziano? Nobody wanted it here. The very highest estimate that it might have drawn here was $150,000. It did $250,000 in Chicago.

BOWLING RESULTS

King Keller with a 213 and Jack Dorfe with a 517 topped the Mercantile League at the Marion Recreation Center Monday night while Samples' 219-571 were high in the Marion Industries League. Individual scores and team standings follow:

Three Giant Homers Sink Redlegs, 7-4

Cincy Gets Westlake, Kazak From Cards For Sisler, Stallcup

NEW YORK (AP) — If the National League's home run hitters were to choose their most popular pitcher it probably would be "no contest." The winner — Herman Wehmeier of the Cincinnati Reds.

Big Herman allowed three more home runs Tuesday night as the New York Giants took a 7 to 4 victory over the Redlegs. That brought to 10 the number of home runs he has allowed in 41 2-3 innings of pitching and the total against all Cincinnati pitching has been only 13.

This may sound like double talk but the figures show it's the truth. Wehmeier is tied with Harry Perkowski for the Reds' top winning percentage with three victories and one defeat but he's a dead last on the staff when it comes to giving up hits, runs—and home runs.

In Wehmeier's 41 2/3 innings he has allowed 46 hits and 29 runs. Ewell Blackwell, who has only one victory against four defeats, has pitched 36 innings and allowed 28 hits and 16 runs.

Blows Lead

The Reds staked Wehmeier to a two-run lead as Joe Adcock and Roy McMillan continued their hitting streaks. But home run roof caved in on Wehmeier in the third and fourth.

Bob Thomson got a two-run homer and Bob Elliott came up next and got another four-bagger.

Willie Mays got the next home run in the fourth and after Wehmeier had loaded the bases Bud Byerly came in to yield a base-cleaning double to Thomson.

The Giants were throttled from there on in but so were the Reds until Ted Kluszewski clipped Larry Jansen for a home run in the ninth.

Today it was doped to be Frank Hiller against Sal Maglie. Maglie already owns one decision over the Reds and Hiller has a 3-2 record for the season. Maglie has yet to lose a game.

The Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals may have solved a couple of their most pressing problems with a four-player swap.

Gabe Paul, Cincinnati general manager, announced Tuesday night the Reds were sending Outfielder Dick Sisler and Shortstop Virgil Stallcup to the Cards in a straight exchange for Outfielder Wally Westlake and Infielder Eddie Kazak.

The key figures in the deal however, appeared to be Sisler and Westlake.

To Fill Hole

The Reds have been sorely in need of a centerfielder since Rookie Wally Post failed to hit and then had to have an operation. Westlake is supposed to plug that hole and let Johnny Wyrostek, a right fielder by trade, go back to his regular spot.

Wyrostek has been filling in at center field.

St. Louis needs a first baseman. Only Tuesday they sent bulky Steve Bilko back to the minors and they've been using Stan Musial at first. Sisler played considerable first base with the Cards in his first hitch with them and again at times with the Philadelphia Phils.

There wasn't any definite word from Manager Eddie Stanky of the Cards on that phase of the deal but Luke Sewell, boss of the Reds, said quickly in New York that Westlake would be Cincinnati's center fielder against both right and left handed pitching. He expressed little concern over the fact Westlake hasn't been hitting well this season.

Feller Hurls Tonight

Cleveland Wins Fourth Straight From Yankees

CLEVELAND (AP)—With No. 4 tucked away, Cleveland's Indians go after their fifth straight victory from the New York Yankees tonight behind the pitching of Bob Feller.

Facing Feller, who now has three victories and one defeat, will be Johnny Sain (2-1). This will be their first mound meeting since Sain shaded once-Rapid Robert 1-0 in 1948 when he pitched in a Boston uniform in the opening game of the World Series.

Sain will be making his first American League start against the Tribe. He faced Cleveland in a relief role in New York last fall, however.

Tuesday's 10-6 victory was sealed by Ray Boone's three-run homer in the eighth inning. Circuit clouts by Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell also were included in the Tribe's 15-hit attack.

Boone also clubbed a double and two singles for a perfect evening at the plate.

Gromek Chased

The Indians, swatting Starter Bill Miller and Bob Kuzava freely in the third and fourth, gave winner Steve Gromek a 7-0 lead. Gromek was chased in the seventh, however, when the Yanks cut the margin to 7-5. The New Yorkers narrowed the gap to 7-6 in the eighth. Lou Brissie and Early Wynn shared the pitching chore with Steve.

Doby, in the Tribe's starting lineup for the first time since he was hurt May 1, started Cleveland in the scoring column in the third with a two-run homer. Mitchell followed with another round-tripper. Three singles made the count 4-0.

Cleveland ran its lead to 7-0 in the fourth by scoring three times after two were out. Harry Simpson led off that frame with a double. Came the two outs, then Doby, Mitchell, Fridley and Boone singled in succession.

Yankees Rally

The Yanks rallied in the sixth with three runs. A single, a double and an infield out accounted for one. Gil McDonald's homer scored two more. The visitors scored two more in the seventh and one in the eighth. But Boone's homer cinched the game for Cleveland in its half of the eighth.

Big Luke Easter goes back into the Cleveland lineup tonight. The first baseman declared his injured right thigh "feels good and I'm not fooling. He missed five games because of the aches and pains and is down to a puny .184 batting average.

His return leaves only Catcher Jim Hegan still on the bench and

Carter Favored To Retain Crown

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter gives Lauro Salas of Mexico his second shot at the world title in six weeks tonight, and once again the little scrapper from New York is a solid favorite to retain the crown.

Carter remains a 1-4 choice in what little betting there has been on the 15-round encounter.

The bout will be televised nationally over the Columbia Broadcasting System. It is slated to go on at 9 p.m. EST.

Girls' League Opens Season With High Scoring Contests

The Marion Girls' Loop opened action Tuesday night with high-scoring marathons. Defending champion, Marion Power Shovel blasted Ohio Associated Telephone Co., 31-12, Marion Industries, last year's runners-up, belted Engineer Depot, 12-9, and Fulfillment Corporation dumped the L-K Sandwich Shop, 13-7.

The Shovel team pushed across seven runs in the opening frame and came back with 12 in the second to coast to its win. Eilene Sherman was the Shovel hurler with Janie Arndt behind the plate. Vade McClellan hurled for the losers while Colleen Kneisley caught.

Gloria Cummins belted a home run for the Shovel as she and Arndt paced the 26-hit attack with four safeties in six trips to the plate. Pauline Daugherty led the telephone crew with three for five. The game was called at the end of the fifth because of darkness.

The Marion Industries crew posted 12 runs on 12 hits to down the Depot girls in a game played at the Industries field. Sally Murray, winning pitcher, gave up only seven hits. Her battery mate was Virginia Eby. Nettie Lou Dickinson and Helen Morse composed the losing battery.

Leads Attack

Pearl Waggle collected four hits in five tries to lead the Motor Products attack. Rosie Auble pounded out two hits for the Depot. Big blow of the game was home run by Louis DeWitt for the losers. That game also was called at the end of the fifth because of darkness.

Lois Severns belted a pair of homers and Francis Fox hit one to lead Fulfillment to its 13-7 win over the L-K. Fox was the winning hurler with Catherine Stanforth catching. She gave up eight hits. The winners collected 13 hits from the offerings of Georgia Short, L-K pitcher. Della Tyler caught for the losers. The game played at the Depot field was halted by darkness after five innings.

Brewers Turn On Power in AA Play

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Brewers turned on the power Tuesday night for a 13-2 victory over Indianapolis to maintain their two-game edge over Kansas City in the American Association race.

Kansas City held second with a 10-9 win over onetime leader Louisville.

In other games, Columbus advanced a game out of the cellar by taking St. Paul 5-4 and Minneapolis hopped into third spot ahead of Louisville with a 12-6 shellacking of Toledo.

Batters generally had a field day—at least those on winning teams.

Milwaukee's Virgil Jester, registering his seventh pitching victory in eight decisions, got 17-hit backing. There were four home runs in the game.

Kansas City and Louisville were in the second night of a batfest. Monday night the Colonels won 16-7. The two clubs have scored 42 runs in their last two games.

Columbus' victory over St. Paul broke a four-game winning streak for the Saints. Curt Krieger was the winner on a nine-hit performance. The Red Birds got all their 11 safeties off starter Earl Mossor, who was lifted in the seventh inning.

The Minneapolis-Toledo game also provided plenty of plate action. The Millers got 19 hits, including two home runs, a double and a single by Ray Katt.

Cincinnati Cancels Hawaii Grid Tilt

CINCINNATI (AP)—The University of Cincinnati announced today its scheduled football game with the University of Hawaii at Honolulu on next Dec. 6 has been canceled.

M. Charles Mileham, athletic director, said the cancellation was in line with a university policy of "practicing rigid economy in all aspects of university administration and operation."

Mileham said it was estimated playing of the game would mean a $15,000 loss by U.C. and a smaller loss by Hawaii.

"With this situation prevailing," he said," it was mutually agreed that Hawaii would substitute a West Coast team for the Dec. 6 date."

There was no word as to whether Cincinnati will seek another game to replace the Hawaii tilt. Cancellation of the game leaves U.C. with a nine-game schedule.

The only comment on the cancellation from Dr. Raymond Walters, U.C. president, was "the cost of the trip to Hawaii was simply too high."

Cincinnati defeated Hawaii here last fall, 34 to 0.

Morrow Debt Cut in 1951

MT. GILEAD—The bonded indebtedness of Morrow County and its political subdivisions as of Dec. 31, 1951 was reduced slightly from the previous year, according to a report released this week by County Auditor Marold Taylor.

Grand total debt as of Dec. 31, 1950 was $1,996,850. A total of $101,100 was redeemed in 1951 and new bond issues totaled $12,500 making the indebtedness at $1,908,250 as of Dec. 31, 1951.

The County Hospital indebtedness was reduced $37,000 to its present $476,000. Bonded indebtedness of villages was reduced $12,000 but new issues totaling $7,000 were added, leaving county villages with a total indebtedness of $289,600. Townships reduced their indebtedness $5,600 but added new issues totaling $5,500 to make their total present indebtedness $12,950.

Biggest share of the total debt was for the county schools. At the start of the year 1951 they had an indebtedness of $1,176,200. A total of $46,500 was redeemed during the year and no new issues were added, leaving a total indebtedness at the end of last year of $1,129,700.

TRINITY SOCIETY MEETS

A Mother's Day and India Women's Work program was held by the Trinity Lutheran Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society on Thursday at the church south of Marion. Attending with the members were 30 guests. Mrs. Delbert Lichtenberger was program leader. Scripture and prayer were by the pastor, the Rev. W. R. Budke. A quartet number for Mother's Day was presented by Mrs. Lichtenberger, Mrs. B. C. Williams, Mrs. Leslie Bunnell and Mrs. George Lust, accompanied by Mrs. Giles Hoch. Mrs. Charles Laucher presented a poem. A talk on India Women's Work was given by Mrs. LeRoy Fetter. Miss Emma Leffler was presented a life membership pin. A solo by Mrs. John Laucher Jr. was accompanied by Mrs. Ray Weiser. Each member then introduced her guest. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Lichtenberger.

The U.S. population has increased roughly six-fold in one century.

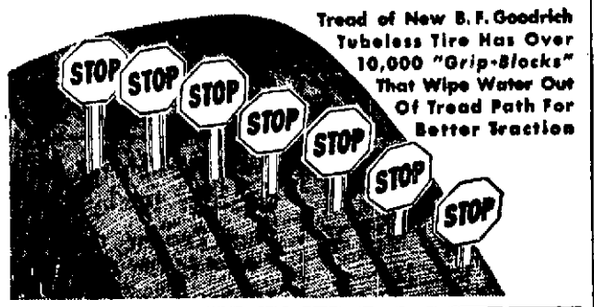
B.F.Goodrich Tubeless Tire
NOW DEFIES SKIDS, TOO!
Tread of New B. F. Goodrich Tubeless Tire Has Over 10,000 "Grip-Blocks" That Wipe Water Out Of Tread Path For Better Traction



SEALS PUNCTURES — New "Life-Saver" Tubeless Tire can be run over spikes without losing an ounce of air. Beneath the tread, there is a layer of special gummy rubber which seals against puncturing objects. When the object is removed, the sealant is drawn into the hole, sealing the hole as you drive.

PROTECTS AGAINST BLOWOUTS — Sudden blowouts in regular tires with inner tubes are usually caused by the tube being pinched by a bruise-break in the tire carcass. But a bruise-break in the Tubeless Tire merely causes a slow leak. Plenty of time for a safe stop. It changes Blowouts to safe s-s-s-s-slowouts.

As Low As $4.00 DOWN and your old tires puts a set of "Life-Saver" Tubeless Tires on your car.

Jet Pilots Worrying About Gray Hair

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—Jet pilots may run the risk of going prematurely gray.

That's what the men who fly Royal Australian Air Force jet planes are saying after they had found some RAAF jet fliers in their early thirties were getting gray hair.

"There's nothing mysterious about high altitude flying causing gray hair in jet pilots," said Prof. F. S. Cotton of Sydney University. He said the reason was simple: "Nervous strain of high speed flight in a form of flying which is still comparatively new."

Gray hair in jet pilots may become an "occupational hazard," a Sydney hair specialist said.

However, the director-general of medical services, Maj. Gen. F. Kingsley Norris, disagreed. "The suggestion is ludicrous," he said.

RIVER STILLS RAIDED

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (UP)—Sheriff L. L. Guy called out his navy—a fleet of rowboats—to raid three 550-gallon moonshine stills ingeniously erected on wooden platforms in the middle of Black River 100 feet from dry land.
